

GEORGE LINCOLN ROCKWELL

Dear Speed:

I get pretty discouraged passing business along to you, but here's one you will have to be nuts to pass up.

Last night a guy called me from Atlanta, Georgia, wanting to buy fifteen hundred German helmets at almost any price. Said he had teenagers BEGGING for them down there, and needed them NOW. I referred him to Forbes in California, who may have such sources.

You're in the BUSINESS. German helmets, autographed and official, by GLR, etc, --would sell like the hoola hoop, -- which is exactly the analogy used by the caller from Atlanata last night.

Need I say more?

Don't know what it takes to get you out of your "rut," ---but maybe this'll help.

x Heil Hitler!
