The Hyde Park Blabberbill

In the sensational new folio of art prints being offered by THE VIRGINIAN, you will meet such familiar "ODD BIRDS" as the "Hyde Park Greater Buck-toothed Blabberbill", familiar to observers all over the world, but seldom seen in the scathing light shed by Lincoln Rockwell's brilliant drawings. Even your most confirmed One-World friends will not be able to repress a snicker when they see this especially odd bird revealed in its true ridiculousness! You'll meet the "Red-tinged Blackbird", well-known to those familiar with the NAACP's "legal-action" activities, but devastating and revealing to those who lack this first-hand experience.

You'll exult over the rapier-like accuracy with which Rockwell's pen has portrayed the "Brotherhood Buzzard", -whose raucous cries are heard from the Catskills to Miami and from Hollywood to Manhattan. But if we go on, we'll spoil all the fun for you!!

And FUN is what you'll get out of Lincoln Rockwell's "ODD BIRDS", never before offered to the public at any price!

But even though hours of enjoyment and drawings yourself, THE offering them solely for are locked in a despite of our beloved American thing we hold dear. The hands can strike terror conspirators, because the dawn of history has ridicule are deadly WE
