The Anton of the this tott reopte will hold a meeting this Wednesday at Hall. This will be a special meeting and John McEachern, John Roddy and Mike Johnson will speak briefly.

Students are invited to provide constructive ideas for the 1975 UAP platform. The theme of the meeting will be the role of the Majority Student in Student Government - a much-discussed but generally unimplemented facet of your life. The situation is now so bad that one student resigned from the Senate because of the special treatment given to all minority Course Coole Laste Stand Course Course and All students interested in knowing where the UAP stands, without the filter of The Red and Black intervening are urged to attend. This meeting will also cover the means for the Majority Student to express his views directly through the UAP in the coming elections. Isn't it time someone stood up for your interests? Maybe now You Care and In 1 once said that every smear against 8 PM in the Third Floor Lounge, Russell patriots is a "badge of honor." We fee: that the UAP has been over-decorated lately - especially since the recent vilification campaign against the party and some of its members concernil? their "involvement" with the Young Democrats of Clarke County (YDCC). So much controversy has been aroused, in fact, that those who hate the UAP and its principles have again stooped to lies and deceit.

What does the UAP have to do with the YDCCC

Nothing - Coalition, The Red and Black, the Committee on Gay Education, and misinformed Democrats notwithstand!

It is true that several UAP . members were elected officers of the ypcc. Several other interested Young Democrats worked with some of these UAP members to provide imput into the The state of the set

It should be made clear that the UAP is a campus political party. Platform Open for Ideas

With the deadline for the elections now less than a month away, the UAP is beginning to gear up for the coming conflict. First step in this is a series of meetings, which the Russell Hall affair 19 first to explain the ideals of the party and solicit suggestions. We plan to distribute copies of last years' platform in order to give . you the concrete facts about the stand of the UAP. Boiled down, the UAP stands for student rights where students are forced to pay. In dorm life, the UAP has always opposed any contract system or forced regidence. If the University can not keep the dorms livible, then there is no reason why people should have to put up with them. Roommates should be able to swap off whenever they like (provided space can be found for them to move to). We oppose any restrictlong on the right of a student to choose his or her own environment.

SMEARED AGAINE (CONF 4)

C. Cooper packed a meeting called at the instigation of Earnhart to elect their flunky, John Barrow, President. Alternately calling for and ignoring Robert's Rules of Order, they disintergrated the fragile structure of the meeting, finally destroying all order, and requiring the calling of campus police. Regardless of what happened at the meeting however, the UAP as an organization was no more responsible than Coalition or the Committee on Gay Education (which adjourned their meeting to help the leftists).

The most important aspect of the meeting was the reaction that followed in the Red and Black. The editor, Leslie Thornton, saw fit to read her own prejudices and blases into the editorial page as well as the headlines blazing across page one. That's her business. We are only able to take solace in the fact that the blatant prejudice against the UAP is now a matter of record. We hope, that since school is supposed to be a learning process that Miss Thornton will be able to better conceal her next set of poison darts. Only then will she be able to secure employment on one of the establishment fishwrappers. In the meantime, fair-minded people will have concrete evidence of the kind of treatment they can expect the UAP to receive from the likes of Miss Thornton. The power of the press is the power where any think the part of the line to the time the

As for admissions and academics, we stand for equal standards for all Georgians. We are opposed to any experimentation with student's careers

In University organizational life, the UAP has stood for the absolute right of each organization to be the sole judge of its own membership.

These are a few of the stands the UAP has taken in last years campaign--our first effort.

Among the ideas that promise to be added to our platform are a complete alteration of student government to reduce its size and increase efficiency. Right now it is one of the more boring nuisances facing students every time they pick up a Red & Black.

A more service-oriented organization could help people with problems rather than dicker over who will get elected President of the Society of Learned Lunatics.

Your opinion is important and can help make a different campus. Come to the UAP meetings. elected a new slate of officers to led the party into the elections.

John Seawright, new President, pledges continuation of the strong leadership which as characterized the UAP in the past.

Vicki Olson, the new Vice-President, is a transfer student. This year marks her first at the University, and she is "looking forward to the spring elections. The new treasurer is graduate student Steve Austin.

It is interesting to note that all of the new officers have joined since the UAP was founded. John Roddy, presiden since 1973 said upon his retirement, "Thank God!"
