"So the Jew becomes the world's absolute champion in the art of being a chameleon. In America, he is the original model of the American, devouring apple pies, yelling at the umpire at ball games and even joining the Unitarian church to parade around in the suburbs like the goy on Sunday. In England he becomes "royalty," with a title and the rank of knight or duke. In Spain he hollers "Ole!" at the bullfight and becomes a Don. In pre-World War II, some Jews even tried to be "Nazis." But underneath the Jew is still there, and when the crisis arrives, the Jew will out. He is a Jew first—then an American or a Spaniard."

—Lincoln Rockwell, White Power, p. 198

Commander Delivers Letter to Danish Embassy

The Commander and a delegation of National Headquarters-area National Socialists, accompanied by a Stormtroop escort, delivered a letter protesting the harassment of officers of the Danish National Socialist Union to the Danish Embassy in Washington, D.C., on 22 January. Because of the astronomical Negroidal crime rate of our nation's capital, the Danish Embassy keeps its doors locked 24 hours a day, and only opens them when embassy officials are sure that it is safe to do so. When the embassy officials saw the Commander and the comrades accompanying him, they decided that, in this case, discretion was the better part of valor, and refused to unlock the doors.

While dozens of embassy employees gawked at the National Socialists assembled on their front door-step, the Commander spoke to a Danish diplomatic officer through an intercom system. So unnerved were the embassy personnel by the presence of the NS delegation, that they would not unlock their doors even long enough for the Commander to hand them the letter of protest, but instead instructed him to slip it under the door!

The letter, addressed to the Danish ambassador to the United States, Otto R. Borch, is reproduced here.

Milwaukee NSWO Shovels Snow for the Elderly

Members of the Milwaukee Unit of the National Socialist Women's Organization offered their services in January to elderly White people unable to clear the heavy winter snow from their sidewalks, driveways and porches by themselves. Milwaukee NSWO leader Sandra Osvatic reports that news of the community action project spread quickly by word of mouth, and resulted in the NSWO receiving numerous calls requesting assistance. The Milwaukee comrades who participated in this activity are to be highly commended—this type of activity will do more to build good will and support for the Party among the masses of White people than any other type of Party action.

Milwaukee NSWO comrades hard at work.

MATT KOEHL
 COMMANDER

January 22, 1979

Mr. Otto R. Borch
 Ambassador
 Danish Embassy
 3200 Whitehaven NW
 Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Ambassador:

On behalf of American National Socialists and National Socialists throughout the world, I wish to register in the strongest possible terms my opposition to the continuing quasi-legal harassment and persecution of the leadership of the Danish National Socialist Union.

In particular, I wish to protest the recent arrest of Mr. Povl Heinrich Riis-Knudsen and Dr. Hans Christian Krog Pedersen, the national leader and secretary of the DNSU, respectively.

Both National Socialist leaders were arrested under the notorious paragraph 266b of the Danish penal code, a repressive statute which prohibits criticism of non-Aryans.

I strongly urge you to use all the authority and influence of your position as ambassador to halt this very un-Danish witchhunt, and to restore political freedom and free speech to your country.

For our part, please be advised that we National Socialists will not rest until we are convinced that this miscarriage of justice has been stopped.

Heil Hitler!

Individual Activism Builds the Party

Although most of the activities reported in the NS BULLETIN are those of organized Party units, a significant amount of National Socialist activism is undertaken each month by individual Party comrades acting on their own. A case in point is comrade G.S., of Alaska. Here are some of this comrade's recent activities:

- Distributed 20 Party business cards.
- Persuaded two local libraries to place the booklet "Did Six Million Really Die?" on their shelves.
- Mailed out 10 "Menachem Begin" leaflets to various people, including the host of a radio talk show—who read it on the air!
- Wrote letters to different newspapers setting forth a pro-National Socialist viewpoint.

If all other Party comrades would take a little bit of their time each day to spread the National Socialist message—like Comrade G.S. does—the Party's rate of growth would expand significantly.

As it says on the top of the Activity Report, "Revolutionary victories are made by persistent activism, not idle complaint!"

ACTIVITIES IN BRIEF

- On 15 January, Comrades Arthur Jones and Sandra Osvatic spoke to two groups of 100 students at Eisenhower High School, in New Berlin, Wis. Their presentation went over so well with the first group that they were asked to stay and speak to the following class. Each of the 200 students were given a copy of WHITE POWER, as well as a selection of Party leaflets. The two National Socialists were also interviewed by the school newspaper. That interview is reproduced here.
- Chicago Unit I distributed the greatest number of copies of WHITE POWER during the month of January. Over 1,000 issues of the Party paper were passed out in Berwyn, Chicago and Cicero.
- Other local units reporting distributions include Maine, Milwaukee I, Minneapolis, Orange County (Calif.) and North Carolina.
- A uniformed WHITE POWER paper sale was held at the Rosslyn Metro station in Arlington, on 4 January.
- Party Member Dan Stewart of the Los Angeles Unit gave a 45-minute interview to Fullerton College students on 17 January. The interview was videotaped for future use at the college, and there is some possibility that it will be aired over a local UHF television station.
- An interview with Minneapolis Party Leader Steve Martinson and Eric Johanson of the Midwest Regional Headquarters appeared in the Minnesota Daily, a newspaper published by the University of Minnesota, on 15 January.
- At the monthly meeting held by the Richard Biederman Unit, Unit Leader Steve Martinson announced the creation of an election fund and a fund to purchase a copy of Triumph of the Will for the unit. Anyone interested in donating to either of these funds should write to the Richard Biederman Unit at the address given elsewhere in this NS BULLETIN.

Nazis address class

by Carol Deptolla

Appearing in full stormtrooper uniform, Arthur Jones addressed Current Affairs and US History students here on January 15.

Jones, Director of Public Relations in the Midwest for the National Socialist White People's (Nazi) Party (NSWPP), and Sandra Osvatic, a member of the Women's NSWPP, were guest speakers for a senior's Current Affairs project.

Osvatic joined the party in 1974, because she felt her children were getting an "inferior education because they were attending school with inferior people."

"We (the women's auxiliary) work towards a better education for our children, to bring them back to the old tradition and the white man's culture," stated Osvatic.

As a result, Osvatic ran for the Milwaukee School Board in 1977, for which received 20 percent of the vote, but did not win.

In 1971, Jones joined the NSWPP after he discovered a "dope ring" in Ft. Carson while finishing his military term, and was beaten by seven Blacks. It was after that incident that Jones says he "discovered a racial problem." In 1974, Jones became an activist.

"I went out in the streets and fought, hand to hand, face to face, the Communist traitors in this country, and I've been fighting them ever since," declared Jones.

Running for mayor of Milwaukee in 1976, Jones had television commercials, distributed 50,000 brochures, and took out ads in The Milwaukee Journal and The Milwaukee Sentinel. He received 4,790 votes, and finished number four in a field of seven candidates.

Because of the Jones campaign, the Soviet newspaper Tass reported that Milwaukee was becoming a "Nazi stronghold."

"We're very proud of that fact," Jones said, "because you know you're really being effective when you can rattle the cages of the Kremlin like that."

Jones also announced that he would again run for mayor of Milwaukee in 1980.

"Milwaukee is going to be the Munich of this party," Jones later predicted. (The German city of Munich is where the Nazi Party first gained power.)

Jones explained the past and future stages of development the NSWPP.

George Lincoln Rockwell founded the American Nazi Party in 1959. In this stage, known as Phase One, the party performed violent acts and publicity stunts in order to get its name into the mass media.

Phase Two began in 1967 when the American Nazi Party changed its name to the National Socialist White People's Party.

Jones added that the party is aiming for Phase Three -- when it will become a mass movement.

First Trustees Named

The first members of the Party's new board of trustees were nominated in January, and will be officially sworn in at the next Party congress. More comrades are scheduled to be nominated to the board in the upcoming months.

ORGANIZER'S NOTEBOOK

How to Handle News Interviews

Often Party organizers will be approached by newsmen and asked to explain the Party's position on some matter or another. It is important that those comrades designated to represent the Party present the best and most professional public image when dealing with the news media.

Here are five basic do's and five basic don'ts to keep in mind when giving news interviews. While they will not cover all the questions you may have on the subject, they should give you a good basis to start from. Any further questions you have on this matter should be referred to National Headquarters in Arlington.

Five Basic Do's

1. Be prepared. Know your subject thoroughly. If you don't, you can embarrass both the Party and yourself. Anticipate the reporter's questions.
2. Be yourself, be open and above all be honest. Phoniness is magnified many times over, especially on television. Don't twist the facts, even a little bit. A half truth is also a half lie. It is imperative that you establish and keep your personal credibility and the credibility of the Party.
3. Be brief. Formulate in your mind the answer to any foreseeable questions. Put the important points up front. If you don't, the important points may be edited out. Use understandable English.
4. Before the interview, ask the reporter what general areas will be covered, but not what specific questions will be asked. If you flub the response, ask the reporter to stop the interview so you can answer from the beginning.
5. Stress the positive. Always attempt to portray the Movement in the most attractive light. Show that you are an intelligent, serious, committed National Socialist, not a two-bit punk or a Hollywood "Nazi." Avoid using racial invective (for example, "kike" and "nigger").

Five Basic Don'ts

1. Don't try to be funny. Odds are that attempts at humor will backfire. Play it straight and play it natural.
2. Never say "no comment." That will make it appear that you are trying to hide something, even if you're not. If you cannot answer a given question, clearly explain why.
3. Don't lose your cool. If you do, you're likely to flub badly. Most reporters will try to get you off balance. Keep your composure, no matter how difficult that is.
4. Whenever possible, wear a suit and tie for interviews. Do not, however, wear loud ties, bold pants or herringbone or houndstooth patterns for a television interview. Lights and reflections can cause distortion and detract from what you are saying. Make sure that you are well-groomed, that is, that your hair is neatly trimmed and combed, and that you are well-shaven. If you do not have a suit, wear your ST uniform. Make sure that that, too, is squared away.
5. Don't sit back and complain about the "Jewish news media" if you are misquoted or otherwise treated unjustly—do something about it. Go calmly to the editor (or producer), not the reporter, and set forth your complaints. Ask the editor to talk to the reporter and then get back to you. Treat the media just as you would treat a business associate—with respect. There is no way you can win by browbeating or antagonizing the media.
