Midwest Comrades Hold ‘Energy Rally’

Midwest Party comrades held a rally on 4 August in Chicago’s Nathan Hale Park to draw attention to the present energy crunch. The National Socialists explained both what was behind the well-publicized “oil shortage” and told what could be done to alleviate the “shortage.”

Some 30 uniformed comrades took part in the event, which drew a medium-sized crowd of well-behaved, interested White people.

The first speaker was Milwaukee Unit II Organizer Rick Prohaska. Comrade Prohaska revealed to the crowd that at the same time as gasoline prices to American consumers are skyrocketing, the U.S. government has concluded agreements which guarantee to supply Israel with all of the oil it needs. Comrade Prohaska went on to say that the Party has the solution to the phoney shortage.

The next speaker was Loretta Syrdahl, national organizer of the National Socialist Women’s Organization. Mrs. Syrdahl spoke against the hypocrisy of the Federal government. The government urges everyone to cut down on their driving to save gas, and then orders massive forced busing for racial integration in major cities, realizing that few vehicles waste more fuel than gas-guzzling school buses.

Mrs. Syrdahl also demanded the government allocate more funds for the development of new energy sources.

The final speaker was Chicago Unit I organizer Art Jones. Comrade Jones also exposed the tie-in between the U.S. policy in the Middle East and the fuel crunch. He warned that Zionist interests in the U.S. and Israel are preparing to involve the United States in a war in the Middle East to capture the Arab oil fields.

Jones also struck out at forced busing, and demanded that the money being wasted in futile schemes to integrate the nation’s schools be used to develop new sources of energy.

The rally ended without incident. The reaction of the crowd was thoughtful, and there was no evidence of any hostility to the Party. Some local publicity was received on the rally.

Midwest Comrades Ready Second Rally

Midwest Party comrades are planning a second Energy Rally, to be held in Sinnissippi Park, in Rockford, Ill., on 15 Sept. News of the rally has gotten page one coverage in the Rockford papers, some of which is reproduced here. Local comrades report distributing over 2,500 leaflets announcing the rally during July, and say that thousands more will be distributed during the first weeks of September. The Sinnissippi rally will be covered in an upcoming issue of the NS BULLETIN.

Nazis plan rally in Sinnissippi Park

By ELIZABETH HOPP

A Virginia-based Nazi group — The National Socialist White People's Party — has scheduled a rally at the Sinnissippi Park band shell Saturday, Sept. 15.

A local representative of the Nazi group said the rally will address "the energy crisis and the United States' Middle East policy" and is intended to gauge local community response to Nazi ideas.

Arthur Jones of Chicago, a party officer, will speak from 1 to 5 p.m. according to Richard Lundberg, 38, 1301 8th St.

"The rally will have to do with the U.S. favoring the Zionist state of Israel as much as they do," said Lundberg, a party member for the past two years.

William Graham, executive director for the Rockford Park District, said a permit was issued to the group Thursday.

Graham said the Park District sought legal advice since a request for a permit was received Aug. 2. "We know enough about civil rights to know we have to issue the permit — we've consulted lawyers involved in similar situations in Skokie and Chicago," he said.

"We also have to provide protection. I've got a nine-man police force and at least five officers will be on hand at the rally," Graham said.

The group is not affiliated with the National Socialist Party of America, headed by Frank Collin, that marched in Chicago's Marquette Park last summer and sought to demonstrate in the predominately Jewish suburb of Skokie.

Most of the Nazis who plan to participate in the local rally are from out of town — Chicago and Milwaukee in particular, Lundberg said. He estimated about 10 to 20 National Socialist White People's Party members live in Rockford.

Lundberg said the rally will be open to the public.

"I think the philosophy of the community is conservative and some people might be willing to accept our ideas," he said, explaining that his party is non-violent and believes in racial separation.

His party believes in the superiority of the white, Nordic race and would like to see blacks and Jews deported from the country, he said.

Rabbi Robert Orkand of Temple

Beth-El said Friday night that he hopes the public will ignore the rally.

"Any group has a legal right to demonstrate, but I think the best thing for people to do is to just stay away," Orkand said. "If the incidents in Chicago and Skokie taught us anything it's that fighting with these people keeps them on the front page of the newspaper, which is exactly what they want — they can't make front page news legitimately."

As for any Jewish counterdemonstration, Orkand stressed it would be non-violent.

"We're not sure what we will do yet because the demonstration is scheduled for our Sabbath and we're not going to allow the Nazis to make us violate the Sabbath."

Lawsuit Filed Against Party in Wisconsin

The Wisconsin State Board of Elections has filed suit against the Party for the Party's failure to disclose the identities of those persons who contributed to Party election campaigns in Milwaukee. The elections in question took place in 1976.

The Party has refused to divulge the identities of election contributors, basing its decision upon a federal ruling which states that such disclosures are not required if they would subject those whose names were revealed to harassment. The Socialist Worker's Party, the second largest communist party in the United States, has won such an exemption. The harassment Milwaukee National Socialists have received from Jews and Reds clearly indicate that the Party is eligible for the same exemption.

Developments in the suit will be covered in upcoming issues of the NS BULLETIN.

Attempted Harassment by anti-NS Police Officer Fails

Party comrades from National Headquarters and the surrounding area held a successful WHITE POWER distribution in Falls Church, Va., on 11 August. The National Socialists, attired in White Power T-shirts, distributed the Party paper to passing motorists and pedestrians.

After the distribution had continued for approximately an hour, seven police patrol cars arrived on the scene. Although the officers were initially hostile, their attitude soon changed when they discovered that the National Socialists were

Board to Take Nazis to Court

The State Elections Board will initiate legal action soon against the National Socialist White People's Party of Milwaukee for failure to provide the board with a list of contributors.

Gerald J. Ferwerda, executive director of the board, said that the Nazi group was claiming exemption on the ground that, because the party is a minority, its contributors would be subject to harassment. But the Elections Board takes the position that the party is not exempt.

Under state law, Ferwerda said, a political party, campaign group or political action committee must provide the Elections Board with the name and address of anyone who contributes $20 or more. If the contribution is $100 or more, the person's occupation or business affiliation must also be listed.

Penalty Urged for Nazi Party

Journal Madison Bureau

Madison, Wis. — The State Elections Board Friday asked the Dane County Circuit Court to penalize the National Socialist White People's Party, Arlington, Va., for failure to provide more detailed information on party contributors.

State law requires that campaign finance reports include the names and addresses of persons who contribute more than $20 and the occupation and principal place of business of those who contribute more than $100.

The law calls for forfeitures of up to $500 for each violation.

Joseph J. Osvatic, Milwaukee, treasurer for the party's operational headquarters in Milwaukee, also named in the lawsuit, had written the board earlier that if a lawsuit were started, the party could file a countersuit in a federal court.

Probationary Unit Requirements

Numerous comrades across the country have contacted National Headquarters in recent weeks requesting information on how to start a local unit. Below are the basic standards required of all local units before they are officially considered units by National Headquarters.

Anyone with any questions on the following points should contact the Organizational Secretary, Director Martin Kerr, at National Headquarters.

1. All members of the Unit must pledge their unconditional loyalty to the Party's Commander, Matt Koehl.
2. The Unit must contain at least four (4) Party comrades who are in good standing with National Headquarters. These comrades may be Official Supporters, Probationary Party Members, full Party Members or any combination of these.
3. At least one of the unit members described in (2) must be a probationary or full Party Member. This comrade will hold the rank of Unit Organizer, and will lead the unit until a Unit Leader is appointed by National Headquarters.
4. One of the unit members—other than the unit organizer—must be selected as Secretary-Treasurer. The Secretary-Treasurer will file a report with NHQ the first of each month listing the comrades currently in the unit. This is known as the unit roster. The Secretary-Treasurer will also file a second report on the first of each month listing the unit's income and expenses for the previous month. This is known as the unit financial report.
5. Either the unit organizer or the unit secretary will file a report on the first of each month on the activities undertaken by the unit the previous month. This is known as the unit monthly activity report.
6. The unit must have a mailing address—preferably a post office box—which may be made public.
7. The unit must hold at least one (1) private meeting a month.
8. The unit must purchase and distribute at least 50 copies of the most recent issue of the Party newspaper, WHITE POWER, each month for every unit member it contains. For example, a unit with five (5) members must distribute 250 copies of the most recent WHITE POWER each month.
9. The unit and its members will not undertake any illegal or criminal activity.
10. All appointments of unit officers must be authorized by National Headquarters (or regional or district headquarters, where applicable) before they become official.
11. No written literature may be printed, no White Power messages may be aired and no headquarters may be opened by a probationary unit without the prior authorization of National Headquarters.
