"Wir stehen mitten in einer grossen Zeitenwende. Was wir alle durchmachen sind ihre Geburtswehen. Alles scheint negativ— und einmal wird dann doch Neues und Grosses geboren werden."

RUDOLF HESS, letter of October 28, 1946.

EDITORIAL

In the year before us we will be celebrating two anniversaries; it is both the eightieth year of the Leader and the fiftieth year of the Movement. We have a long and rocky path behind us now, and it may be discouraging to look back along that path at the painfully slow progress we have made since the catastrophe of 1945. But when we turn to the future and look at what lies ahead of us in the next few years we can see better grounds for enthusiasm than at any time in the past twenty-five years.

The political tempo has increased all over the world. Even in the midst of unparalleled prosperity, anarchist, Jewish, and Marxist elements are ripping and tearing away the foundations of the decadent democratic order. A new generation, without moral bearings or any deep ideological commitment, has nearly grown up now. A static situation dominated by entrenched interests is giving way to a much more fluid situation.

Much as we may hate and oppose the destructive forces at work today, they are performing a necessary task. Just as the role of the bacteria which bring about the decomposition of a corpse, redistributing its organic matter to the universe so that new life may arise in its place, is an essential role, so is the role being played now by the Jews and their allies essential. The rotten, dying world of today must complete the rapidly accelerating process of decomposition before a new and healthy world can hope to rise in its place. The organic matter which is being returned to Nature's store-room in this case is the new generation of alienated and uncommitted youth. This is the raw material from which a new world, for better or for worse, must be built. Twenty-five years ago that supply of raw material was too small. Today it is large enough so that we can begin to plan realistically on using some small portion of it for our aims, even while the majority of it is still hastening the process of degeneration.

In the year ahead—and the year or two or three after that—we must learn to think and act faster than we have been accustomed to. We will be faced with a flood of new challenges and new opportunities. The Movement will certainly grow faster than it has in three decades. Let us resolve now that that growth will lead to a stronger, more unified, more active and virile Movement as well as a larger Movement.

INTERNATIONAL

National Socialists who have not yet established a formal affiliation with the National Socialist movement are urged to do so immediately. One thing that no National Socialist should forget is that Rudolf Hess is still in prison. Publicity is the strongest weapon which can be brought to bear on this matter now. Let no opportunity pass to help make the public aware of this continuing democratic-Marxist crime.

Three new employees have been added to the growing staff at WUNS HQ during the last quarter.

ARGENTINA

Jews and liberals in Argentina have been screaming about the recent appearance of National Socialist literature at newsstands in Buenos Aires. In the United States, where the wholesale magazine distribution business is completely in Jewish hands, Jews have complete control over the selection of reading material offered at newsstands. If a retailer displays any "unapproved" periodical, his wholesaler can cut him off from his supply of other magazines. Apparently there is at least one non-Jewish magazine wholesaler in Buenos Aires.

GERMANY

A very interesting development is taking place in the Western Zone of Occupied Germany. Following a relaxation of certain restrictive laws governing political parties and political activity, a group of young National Socialists in Germany have begun open National Socialist activity for the first time since 1945. With the name "Union of German National Socialists" (Bund Deutscher National-Sozialisten) and under the leadership of Wolf-Dieter Eckart, 30, they have been distributing literature and speaking at meetings in the Hamburg area.

The purpose of the recent legal relaxation by the pro-Marxist (although allegedly anti-Russian) authorities was only to legitimize the newly established German Communist Party (Deutsche Kommunistische Partei), not to allow a greater freedom of political expression in Occupied Germany. But, in order to avoid confusing the brainwashed liberals, the authorities may now be obliged to grit their teeth and suffer the existence of the National Socialists also. We may be sure that our German comrades will exploit their new opportunities to the limit.

A grim reminder of the Jewish-Marxist-democratic murder orgy which took place at the end of the last war was given recently when a Red Cross official in Cologne announced that his office still receives, nearly 24 years after the war, about 700 inquiries a day from persons looking for German soldiers or civilians who disappeared without a trace. These were among the millions who perished in Allied extermination camps, who were turned over to Communist mobs to be killed, or who were hunted down and murdered by the Jew terrorist squads which were allowed by the Occupation Authorities to roam freely in Germany immediately after the capitulation.

UNITED STATES

The efforts of the National Socialist White People's Party have been directed toward two goals during the latter part of 1968:

1. The development of a capability for instant propaganda response to current events. As the political situation continues to grow more turbulent, fast response becomes increasingly important. At present the NSWPP is able to have a new propaganda leaflet in the hands of a distribution crew anywhere in the United States within 24 hours of any new development in the news, shipping the freshly printed leaflets via air freight from Washington. Leaflets produced so far have concentrated on recruiting among students at riot-torn universities and among White policemen in large cities. The goal for 1969 is at least two new leaflets each month.

2. The transformation of the entire NSWPP membership from a more-or-less passive state to an active state. This has taken the form of encouraging all Party members to engage regularly in Party activities, primarily propaganda distributions. At the same time, Party propaganda has become increasingly militant and activist. One development in this direction has been the creation of a Party arms subsidiary, which has caused a fair amount of furor among the authorities.
