Life on the Frontline

By John McFarlane

A CALL TO ARMS
A CALL TO SACRIFICE

NATIONAL FRONT

TEL. 01 373 3432

Editor- Mr. McFarlane was one of the best activists in the National Front of Great Britain. At present he is visiting America and helping the MDF. We have asked him to describe his life on the political battlefield in Britain.

I joined the National Front at the age of 17 in 1981 after I met some people selling NF newspapers in my hometown in Scotland. Since the age of 15 I had supported the Scottish National Party which claimed to be Scots Nationalist but was tending towards Marxism and multiracialism. In fact, at one point, the SNP began to run several Asians for office - very Scottish! I was a racialist and had a sense of being British even though I was proud of my Scottish roots, so I decided that the NF was the party for me.

When I first joined the Front I was disappointed by the lack of contact from HQ and local officials. Since no one was telling me what to do, I decided to buy NF leaflets and newspapers with my own money so I could "spread the word". I soon discovered that the reason that no one had contacted me was largely because there were so few members in my area. But this did not deter me. I looked for local attractions at which I could sell NF newspapers and distribute leaflets. Soccer games turned out to be the best, and soon I was selling so many papers that the whole business of buying material from the NF to

Teen Suicide Becoming Epidemic

The figures are numbing. In 1985 nearly 615,000 children attempted suicide, and 5000 succeeded. Suicide is the second leading cause of death amongst teenagers. (Accident is first.) Most disturbing of all, teen suicide has tripled since 1950 and continues to rise.

Over and over we hear the calls for solutions that address the symptoms of the problem and not the underlying cause. This time we are told that suicide prevention centers will do the trick. One more in the seemingly endless line of bogus solutions that the System comes up with so as not to face the reality that it is the sick nature of the System itself that is the problem.

Our children grow up alone in a crowded world. They receive very little guidance from adults during the most critical years of their development. The schools are afraid of the charge of "indoctrination" so they refuse to teach an ideology or even the most basic ethics. This tells the child that there is nothing to live for beyond himself, and that message is reinforced by the media masters and by self-seeking parents. In the schoolroom they are but 1 of 30 or 40 that the teacher must attend, so the school could have but little impact in any case. Half of all homes are broken by divorce, and even in those that are not, there is usually no one there during the day as both parents must work for the family to survive. So the child returns from school to an empty home, or hangs out with other children who are too young to be real friends, and who are in any case just as rudderless and just as confused as he.

Our Jewish psychologists like to tell us that peers have more influence on the development of children than do parents or other adults. And at the moment that is indeed true, but not because it must be, as they imply, but rather because we have abdicated our role as adults. Too many people never grow up and are always preoccupied with the acquisition of new toys and more status. The children come second, or third, or whatever.

What have we given our children to live for? What is their purpose? What is their goal in life? They cannot identify with their country because it is a mish-mash of contending interests, contending races and contending cultures. If they are White, they cannot identify with their race or its heritage as that would be evil racism. They cannot identify with a religion because they know too much about the real world to take the lies and mad scribbings of long dead Jews seriously. So there is nothing left but self-interest and its hedonistic rat race for greater material acquisitions and drug induced pleasures. This is what we have given our children, and we wonder why they are not grateful.

For those of us who need to live for something greater than ourselves, and this constitutes the great bulk of White people, such a meaningless life as the System offers is not very appealing. We feel completely alienated, but only the strongest of us revolt, the rest are overwhelmed by the stench of the decadence that seems always to surround us. Most of the despairing adjust by pretending that everything is alright - that this is the way the world is supposed to be - and they suppress their true nature. They do not have the moral courage to fight or the physical courage to commit suicide. Others depart in the desperate hope that what is beyond life must be better than the hell on earth that we have created.

The only answer is to destroy the sick society in which we now live and to build on its ashes a healthy social order in line with the true nature of our White Race. In such an order our children will receive the constant guidance of adults. They will learn the ethics of nationalism in the schools and they will be part of a multifaceted youth movement which will cater to their varied interests from chess to sports, from dancing to wargaming, from photography to orienteering. They will further become involved in projects to help the community so that they can practice nationalism and not just hear it preached. At every turn there will be adults to counsel them and promote their development. Only in this way can they be made to feel a part of the community and to feel a sense of purpose and direction in their lives. Never again will we abandon our children to their peers. 66

Affirmative Action Hits Alabama

In keeping with last summer's ruling to impose strict hiring quotas for minorities, the US Supreme Court recently decided to maintain Alabama's "affirmative action" plan. In a 5-to-4 vote, the court backed a 1983 judicial order requiring Alabama to promote Black and White state troopers on a mandatory one-for-one basis until the Blacks comprise 25 percent of the higher-ranking officers on the force.

The extremely close ruling reveals that the justices have not reached a consensus concerning racial work quotas. Yet it clearly reveals the impossibility of Reagan's desire to see a neutral or "color blind" government policy on hiring and promotions. As the President is finding out, either there is integration or there isn't. Our people are not color blind and they will not integrate unless forced to do so.

In the past two decades, many police departments have done their best to retain a professional, all-White force, but they have been skillfully urged by government and multiracial interest groups to make way for more and more minorities.

Associate Justice William J. Brennan, in writing the majority opinion for the Alabama case, gave the excuse that there was a "firm justification for the race-conscious relief." Like many high placed political figures, he has shown his willingness to sell out to equalitarian interests in order to look good before the media and establishment wire-pullers.

But Brennan is correct on one point: Blacks and other "race-conscious" non-Whites, backed by the Jews and multiracialists, must demand forced hiring and special treatment because it serves them best. Meanwhile, the US Supreme Court will continue to pile one integration measure upon another, regardless of what the public really wants. In this way American society remains weak enough to be manipulated and abused by plutocrats and political self-seekers like Justice Brennan, for image or profit. MM

Lt. Col. Oliver North testifying. He did not back down or doubletalk.

Oliver North Sings Like a Canary in Iranscam Hearings

In the Dec86 issue of The Nationalist we predicted that, "If North thinks he is going to go to prison, just to protect the big boys, he will sing like a canary ala John Dean." And, sure enough, in his Iranscam testimony before the Congressional Intelligence Committees, Lt. Col. Oliver North claimed to have complete and specific authority for all of his actions, throwing the blame onto his superiors Bud McFarlane and Vice Admiral John Poindexter. Commenting on how he felt that he had been left in the lurch, North said, "I do honestly believe that they expected that Ollie would go quietly. And Ollie intended to do so right up until the day that somebody decided to start a criminal prosecution."

The difference between Oliver North in Iranscam and John Dean in his Watergate performance is that the latter came across as a worm, and the former as a real man who refused to be contrite and steadfastly defended his actions and decisions. He made the others in the scandal look weak and mealy-mouthed by comparison. For once the American people had a chance to see a figure of strength on their TV screens, and it was such a refreshing change from the timid bureaucrats, political wimps and banal media stars that they completely changed their minds about North, according to the polls, even though Ollie admitted lying through his teeth to all and sundry to protect an inane foreign policy. That Ollie's interpretation of "Duty, Honor, Country" was a touch flexible did not seem to bother them much.

It is worth noting that the only real men in this tale, North and Secord, were subordinate to the likes of McFarlane and Poindexter, not to mention Meese, Shultz, and Weinberger. The meek have inherited the earth and through their organizations they prevent men of strength from rising. And that is good, for those men will gravitate toward us, and our revolutionary movement will grow ever stronger for it. GG

Violence Always Near on the Frontline

sell became self-sufficient, and this gave me a great boost.

Often I would travel overnight by bus to attend NF marches which were usually held around London. It was great fun to meet NF comrades from all over Britain who had also traveled far to attend. National Front marches can be quite impressive. The sight of hundreds of people, mostly young, carrying their country's flag and marching behind a drum corps, could not fail to stir something inside most Britons, and it certainly moved me.

CLOSE TO THE ACTION

Eventually I decided to go to London to get closer to the action. This relocation was made easier by the fact that whereas it is almost impossible to find full time work in Scotland, it is fairly easy to do so in London.

I settled down in a run down area of East London called Stepney and joined the local Tower Hamlets branch. I was quickly able to find work, and I spent 3 or 4 nights a week distributing NF propaganda in our target ward which was about 50% White. On Saturdays I would usually attend an NF march, meeting or some other function, and on Sundays I would help sell newspapers in Brick Lane which was the longest established selling spot for the NF.

In a year I and a few others put out over 12,000 posters and leaflets in our target ward. We did not get one inquiry from all this effort as the Whites in the ward were completely intimidated by the System and by the coloreds, mostly Asian immigrants. It was a very frustrating situation. Nevertheless, we decided to stand a candidate in the London Council elections to see if we had had any impact at all in that ward.

We printed 2 election leaflets which were delivered to every house in the ward, and we covered much of the ward with various NF posters. On polling day 6 people took the day off work to give out handbills to voters as they entered the polling booths. We also had a loudspeaker van tour the area to encourage people to vote NF. The result was better than we had dared hope; we got over 10% of the vote, whereas they NF's average vote had been around 1-2% since 1979. This meant that nearly one quarter of the White population had voted NF! And we had beaten the Conservative Party candidate.

VIOLENCE ALWAYS NEAR

Life in London was not uneventful. In fact, violence always seemed very near. One night while postering a Red attempted to run us down with his car. Another time a Negro tried to spray acid in my face during a papersale with a squeeze bottle. The Reds would tear down our posters almost as fast as we could put them up, and of course we would do the same with theirs.

Marches usually went smoothly, but not always. One time I and 4 other NF activists, 2 of whom were girls, turned up late for a march in Central London. Unfortunately, we ran into a group of about 30 Reds who were between us and the march. They recognised us and attacked. We fought them off for a while, but then a taxi approached and my comrades jumped into it, leaving me under 2 Reds. As the taxi sped off I managed to kick and punch my way to my feet, and then I ran after it. The taxi stopped and waited for me, but it was a very close call.

At a rally in Stockport in North West England, the Communists had gathered in strength to stop us.

A small group of us (10) arrived about an hour early and we were greeted by over 400 Reds. The Reds must have fancied their chances at 40 to 1, but they could not get up the courage to attack us until 6 Red Action members arrived to lead the assault. Red Action is composed of Irish immigrant thugs, and they are very different from the Jewish and trendy leftie cowards that make up the usual Red mob.

The 400 Reds attacked and we fought back fiercely, but gradually we were forced to retreat and we broke into a run for the train station which was our assembly point for the rally, the Reds came after us, but when the Chairman of the NF shouted "Stand", 3 of us stopped, turned and faced the oncoming Reds. Amazingly, the Communists stopped in their tracks. Our battle reputation is so great that none of the Reds wanted to challenge the 3 lunatics before them. This stand off lasted for almost half a minute until we decided that discretion was the better part of valor and continued our retreat to the train station.

For the next half hour these would be "revolutionaries" tried to attack us in the station with hammers and other weapons, and we defended ourselves with whatever was lying around. The Reds smashed down one of the glass doors to get us, but when the first Red, a Negro gentleman, tried to come through he hit the floor like a bag of potatoes. This discouraged the rest for a while, but then they continued their attack. Just in the nick of time more NF members arrived decreasing the odds to about 20 to 1, and at that point the Reds lost their bottle. The NF won the right to hold a meeting in Stockport. During our rally the Reds stayed safely behind the lines

Racial Terrorism NOT the Road to Victory

Sometime before dawn on the morning of July 15th, unknown individuals poured gasoline in the shape of a Swastika on the lawn of a house owned by a Jewish family in Rockville, Maryland, and set it alight. Shortly afterwards, a sympathetic, article describing the incident and decrying acts of terrorism directed against Jews, Blacks, Asians and Hispanics appeared in a local newspaper. The neighborhood in which this act occurred was one of several areas which had recently been blanketed by NDF leaflets, and although the newspaper article was careful to avoid linking the NDF distributions with the vandalism, the implication was clear: White Racialist political activity, no matter how legal and above board, is always related to the harassment and intimidation of innocent and defenseless non-Whites.

But though this message is part of the standard Jewish catechism concerning the alleged dangers and

GRATIFICATION FROM THE DAILY GRIND

Life in the NF is not always as exciting as Stockport. The grind of poster, leafleting and paperselling often becomes tiresome and frustrating, even though one recognizes that this is the heart of political activity. Sometime the work can be very gratifying and an example of that is the present situation in Ulster. Protestant Ulster now believes that the Thatcher government intends to sell out to the Irish government and make Ulster part of Ireland. The Anglo-Irish Agreement which is seen as the first step in the sell-out process has presented the NF with a great political opportunity in Northern Ireland. The NF urged all of its activists to spend some time working Ulster. I spent 3 weeks there, mainly selling newspapers door to door in Loyalist work-evils of White Nationalism, the truth of the matter is usually quite different. Outside the South, where various Klan factions have indeed traditionally engaged in nightriding activity of this sort, supposed racial terrorism is almost never the result of organized White racialist activity.

Sometimes it is the result of teenagers who mistakenly believe that such activity is the appropriate way to vent the very real and justified racial anger they feel towards non-Whites. Often under the influence of alcohol or drugs, they attempt to work off their racial frustrations by acts of random, mindless vandalism and harassment.

In other cases, such apparent acts of intimidation are actually perpetrated by Jews or other minorities against themselves or their neighbors, for the express purpose of whipping up public sympathy in their favor, and to discredit White racialism in the eyes of the White masses and the police.

More rarely, apparent racial vandalism is committed by persons with a personal axe to grind against the victims, and who use White Nationalism as a ruse to throw suspicion off of themselves. Moreover, some incidents have come to light over the years of non-Whites committing acts of violence against their businesses or own residences in order to collect insurance money. Lastly, psychologically disturbed persons occasionally commit these acts in order to draw attention to themselves, as part of a pattern of mental imbalance.

But whatever the source, the end result is always the same: terrorism or vandalism committed against non-White individuals, residences, businesses or religious facilities invariably builds public sympathy and support for the victims, and feelings of disgust and revulsion on the part of decent-minded White folks towards our Cause; it invites police and federal law-enforcement infiltration and legal attacks; and it builds feelings of solidarity and resistance towards the Movement among non-White communities.

Any alleged "positive" effects resulting from such attempted intimidation are far out-weighed by these larger considerations. Indeed, the Jews in particular recognize that such petty "anti-Semitism" is a real and substantial benefit to them.

The racial problems that our people face at this time cannot be solved by acts of random, emotional terrorism or harassment. Rather, they can only be solved in a disciplined, fair-minded and rational manner on a national level, by revolutionary forces such as the NDF possessing a noble and high-minded vision of the future. Accordingly, all energies generated by racial frustrations or tensions should be channeled into constructive political activity aimed at achieving a permanent solution to the problems of multi-racialism, and must not be allowed to become dissipated in counter-productive acts of violence and personal release. MMc

SHORT BURSTS

TV Preachers Tumble

According to pollster Louis Harris, the number of people who have identified themselves as followers of television evangelists has dropped in the last four months from 25% to 12%. Moreover, 52% of their followers think the TV preachers do more harm than good, and an astounding 70% think the preachers are more interested in money than spreading the word of God.

Before the Jim and Tammy Bakker and the Oral Roberts Phone Home scandals, it was estimated by religious consultants that only 5 million people actually sent money to the evangelists in any one year, and that the vast majority of these people were senior citizens. But the latest Marjoes have once again decimated the ranks of the faithful, and have probably ended the political careers of Pat Robertson and Jerry Falwell. No doubt Sunday morning TV will become even more entertaining as "God" performs even greater miracles of healing in order to get his ratings back.

Amy Carter Bounced

Former President Jimmy Carter's daughter, Amy Carter, has been thrown out of Brown University for academic deficiency. The anti-CIA, anti-war, anti-South Africa activist, and good friend of that great (Jewish) American patriot Abbie Hoffman seems to have been caught in a 1960's time warp. She even dresses the part. But to be fair, we must admit that she was carrying a difficult schedule of studies composed of Native American literature (and you thought that the Indians did not have written language), feminist frameworks (is that like basket-weaving?), plant biology and linguistics. We thought only jocks got to take such courses. Well, it is back to the tough life as a millionairess on the peanut farm.

There is a poetic justice to Amy's fate in that she has adopted many of her father's hypocrisies and this serves Jimmy right. If you remember he even forced her to go to a local Black public school while they lived at the White House. She did not last long there either.

One Step Forward, Two Steps Back

The good news on the environmental front is that the American alligator has made a complete recovery under the protection of federal law and has been taken off the endangered species list. The bad news is that the California condor no longer exists in the wild. Further, a study by William Newmark of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor indicates that most of our national parks, including Yosemite, Rocky Mountain, Yellowstone and Grand Canyon, are too small to prevent the extinction of mammal species such as grizzly bears, wolves, lynx, gray fox, bighorn sheep, jackrabbits, skunks, wolverines, otters, mink, racoons and pronghorn antelope. Newmark found that only the largest park area studied, the Kootenay-Banff-Jasper-Yoho park area along the Alberta-British Columbia border offered sufficient room to prevent extinction.

Most species of large mammals are now extinct in Europe and it will not be long before America suffers the same fate unless we recognize the laws of nature and preserve the natural environment in large-scale parks.

PAC-Men

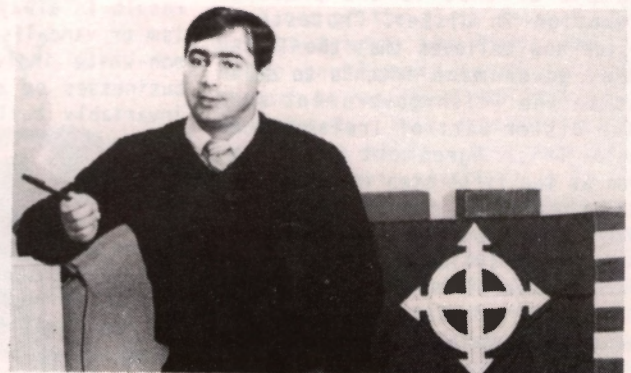

A non-partisan study by the Military Spending research Service found a "strong and consistent" relationship between a Senator's voting on military spending bills and the amount of money he receives from defense contractor political action committees. In analyzing 68 important votes between 1979 and 1984 the study found that Senators in the top one-fifth of defense PAC recipients were almost twice as

An Introduction to the NDF- On Videotape

This VHS videotape is of a meeting of the National Democratic Front that took place in Washington, D.C. on March 22, 1987. It features speeches by Matt Malone and Gary Gallo and provides an excellent overview of what the NDF and Democratic Nationalism are all about. An informative and unedited question and answer session follow the speeches as Gary Gallo fields comments and questions from the audience.

LETTERS

Dear Mr. Gallo:

Please answer my question in regard to the provision in the NDF program about the execution of drug dealers. Does this include all makers of alcohol? As you know alcohol is a drug. Alcoholism is the #1 drug problem. You understand that fact? No hypocrisy in the "New Order".

To not distinguish hard drugs from marijuana is a major political error. Costly to fund-raising and membership development. None of the 40 million pot smokers are going to join and sentence themselves to death. This is a catastrophic mistake for your efforts.

John C. Breckenridge
Center for Nationalist Studies
Osprey, FL

Editor - The NDF will tolerate neither drug use nor hypocrisy. Alcohol is a drug and its use will be eliminated despite the difficulty in this venture. I am afraid that your favorite opiate and your favorite opiate dealer will suffer the same fate under Democratic Nationalism - eradication. Your 40 million drug users will hopefully line up on the other side, i.e. with the Capitalists and Communists, where they belong. We need only a few hundred pure and dedicated cadre to work our will as it is with small groups of fanatical idealists that revolutions are won. It is such men that the masses will follow.

In our Code of Revolutionary Discipline which is meant to act as a guide to those NDF members who wish to become a part of the cadre, it says that "He [the National Revolutionary] will not use either drugs or alcohol." In our Members Bulletin Number Seven the following reasons were given in support of this provision:

Alcohol is a drug and an opiate. It would be hypocritical to claim otherwise just because the System chooses not to define it as such. We do not accept the plutocracy's definition of what is good and evil, so it would be silly to say that we should allow our officers to drink because the System says it is legal. Rather we must judge for ourselves, and our judgment must be that we reject opiates because they cloud the mind, foul the body and cause endless misery for millions of our people and their families through addiction.

Some claim that they want to drink to be sociable, but in fact the only reason to drink alcohol is to get inebriated. People are very sociable in Austrian coffee houses, or French and Italian cafes where they drink tea or coffee rather than alcohol. This is a false argument. What you really want is the right to get drunk. But look at the price that we must pay for your right to become opiated occasionally or more than occasionally. We now have an opiate for almost everyone, and soon with designer drugs it is possible that everyone will be able to find a drug to which he is irresistably drawn. Those that do not like alcohol will claim (rightly) that alcohol is a drug and an opiate, and so they should not be unfairly and hypocritically denied their drug of choice.

There are now approximately 12 million alcoholics in this country. The lives of these men and women and the lives of their families are destroyed by their addiction (not to mention the 25,000 who die every year of alcohol related accidents on the highways.) These are not weak people, rather they are genetically disposed to becoming addicted to alcohol, just as the majority of the rest of the community is genetically disposed to becoming addicted to opium, cocaine, and heroine once they begin to use it "recreationally." The approach of an individualist would be to say that that is the problem of the alcoholic and should in no way affect his right to use alcohol moderately (i.e. to get drunk occasionally.) But the approach of a nationalist is to say that we care for all of our people and that if we can save millions from addiction and the attendant consequences that we should then sacrifice the use of opiates and ban them from the society for the health our nation and the happiness of our people.

Some say that effective banning is impossible and point to the Prohibition era. The System is corrupt and was equally corrupt during Prohibition, and that is why we cannot stop the cocaine traffic now or the alcohol traffic then. Ask the Chinese if opiates can be eradicated in a country where the leadership is not corrupt. There were about 40 million opium addicts in China when Mao took power. There are none today. Under the NDF our people will be happy and will enjoy healthy and natural pleasures. We will bring an end to self-destructive hedonism.

A Nation Once Great

There once was a nation both mighty and strong,
A nation of men who knew right from wrong.
America, America where have you gone?

Corruption and sin now pervade your soul,
The worship of money your number one goal.
America, America where have you gone?

Your leaders are ignoble, their spirits broke,
They have no desire to crack the enemies yoke.
America, America where have you gone?

As the enemy approaches close to your shores,
Your leaders sell them weapons to bolster their wars.
America, America where have you gone?

Your youth are sick from drugs and drink,
Their minds aloof, unable to think.
America, America where have you gone?

The future will show a civilization once great,
Shattered by self-interest, desire, and hate.
America, America where have you gone?

likely to support higher military spending than those in the bottom one-fifth.

The military budget has continued to increase despite the ballooning of the Federal deficit from one trillion to two trillion dollars during Reagan's term, not because the President is pro-defense but because defense PAC spending has risen to the point where it pays for a member of Congress "to support the defense of the nation." Most Representatives and Senators do not feel that they can do without the defense PAC money that they get, so their votes are predictable. It is this sort of legal and institutionalized corruption that greases the machinery of a government based on self-interest.

One of the most heartening sights I have ever seen was at a Loyalist demonstration of about 2000 where NF papersellers were present. Almost everyone was carrying a copy of NF News. It is with this type of activity that the NF has managed to make a major breakthrough in Ulster; and Northern Ireland could very well be the platform that launches us to victory on mainland Britain. JM

A Vision of Victory!

WE of the National Democratic Front are convinced that our ultimate victory is inevitable. But how can this be, you say, when the System seems so strong, when our people seem so self-interested and afraid.

Appearances are often deceptive. In 1916, our enemy Lenin said to his tiny band of followers in Switzerland, "Comrades, we must accept that we will not see a revolution in Russia in our lifetimes." By 1917 Lenin and his Communist movement were in power. The present plutocratic Regime in America appears strong, but it is as fundamentally unsound as Czarist Russia. Its political structure is creaking under the weight of its own incompetence, and its social order is falling apart at the seams. The system of checks and balances and the struggle of the special interests that buy the politicians make intelligent strategy, coherent planning and effective government absolutely impossible.

George Washington's attacks on factionalism are completely forgotten, and all we hear and read in the media is praise of this paralytic pluralism. This is a good thing because it means that the System still does not understand that it is fatally flawed. And it is good because the best young minds in America either reject the System or are rejected by it. The Establishment is left with the politicians, the careerists and the Jews. It is not an accident that the vast majority of the "expert authorities" that we see trotted out on TV are Jewish, even though Jews constitute less than 3% of the population. It is a demonstration not of Jewish intelligence, but rather of their political dominance in a thoroughly politicized system. This is good too because these Jews are second-rate minds and the Regime listens to them as if they are first-rate, and as if they really cared about America rather than Israel and Jewry.

The real experts are ignored, and they are frustrated. The real leaders are crushed by the politicized bureaucracies that are supposed to promote talent. These great minds are out there like ripe fruit waiting to be picked by a revolutionary movement. The NDF has already begun to pluck this tree of real power. The truly talented are alienated from the System and are irresistibly drawn to our ideas, and it is this that makes our victory inevitable!
