They Will Hand Their Power Over to Us

The Communist governments of Poland and Hungary have decided to relinquish power and transform their countries into capitalist plutocracies. It's "out of the frying pan and into the fire," as the old saying goes. But nevertheless, the changes that are occurring in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Empire are startling. Poland and Hungary plan to have multi-party systems by the mid-1990's. Multiple parties are constantly being discussed in the Soviet Union even though Gorbachev has termed the idea "nonsense." The present leaders of Poland and Hungary envision their countries becoming "social democracies" along the lines of Sweden and Austria, which are just capitalist plutocracies with more welfare programs than most.

What caused the Communists to dismantle their own form of government? The fundamental inefficiency and injustice of that system left them financially and morally bankrupt. And as we have so often pointed out, capitalism is the just the flipside of communism. Capitalism is almost as inefficient as communism and is even more unjust. The capitalist leaders will lose faith in themselves and in their system, just as have the communist leaders, and in their despair, the capitalists will hand their power over to us. They did it in Italy in 1922 and in Germany in 1933, and they will do it in one White country after another. And this time a White Nationalism will arise that will bind all White peoples together, so that we cannot be divided and conquered piecemeal by the enemies of our Race.

THE ENEMIES OF OUR BLOOD

And speaking of the enemies of our Race, we should watch carefully what the Jews are now up to in Eastern Europe as they will play similar games in America when it is capitalism's turn to fall. Many National Revolutionaries in America believe that the Jews will not allow the plutocracy to be dismantled and power turned over to White Nationalists. They think that the Jews will make the System fight and that violent revolution will become necessary. Perhaps, but we should remember that the Jews rarely fight themselves. They will try to get the coloreds and White draftees to fight their battles for them just as the Jewish led Bolsheviks got Russian to fight Russian in the "Russian" Revolution. If we do our job as National Revolutionaries correctly, White will not fight White in America, not for the benefit of the Jews nor for the benefit the capitalist plutocrats who are willing to see the blood of their racial kinsmen shed so that they might maintain their corrupt power. Through our propaganda we can show our people the truth about who really runs this country and for what purpose, and then their armies and police forces will become unreliable beneath their very noses.

Communism Falling Apart

The Jews and the plutocrats cannot win unless the White masses are willing to fight for them, and that will not happen.

In Poland the Jews have been trying to redirect revolutionary energies to serve their own interests, and they have been partially successful in this, but they are playing with fire. Most Americans think that Lech Walesa is the leader of Solidarity, but he is just a front man for the real leaders, Adam Michnik and Jack Kuron who are both Jews. Walesa has boasted that he has never read a book in his life. Furthermore, he is a devout Roman Catholic. He is the perfect dupe for the Jews.

Michnik and Kuron began their political careers in the 1960's leading demonstrations against the Soviet Union's policy of supporting the Arabs against Israel. Both were the children of high Communist Party officials, but as the power of the Jews declined in the Communist world, younger Jews became disaffected with the movement that their forefathers had created.

STALIN'S JEWISH REGIMES

Stalin imposed Jewish regimes on all of the countries of Eastern Europe under his control as he knew that they would show no mercy to the native populations. But revolts against these tyrannical governments, particularly in Hungary in 1956, caused Khrushchev to rethink this policy and he began to back native Communists. Imre Nagy, the Hungarian Communist who led the ill-fated revolution in 1956 against the infamous "Jewish Quartet" in Budapest, is still considered a national hero in Hungary. By the late 1960's the writing was on the wall for the Jews, and they began to establish opposition groups in the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe.

The Polish Communist Party cracked down so hard on the Jewish opposition in 1968 that between 20,000 to 30,000 Jews fled the country. By the mid-1970's, Poles were in firm control of the Polish Communist Party for the first time since World War II. The Jews realized that they would need allies to destroy the Polish government which no longer served them. In his book The Church and the Left, which was published in France, Michnik reveals his strategy for wooing the Catholic Church to serve the interests of the "Left." In the late 1970's Michnik, Kuron and other Jews organized the Committee for the Defense of the Workers (KOR) in order to turn the working class against the Communist, and now Polish, government. KOR was the forbear of Solidarity.

JEW'S COURT THE WORKERS

Through their international connections, the Jews could get their labor union favorable press coverage in 35 languages and could get funds from Western Communist-run (i.e. Jewish-run) labor unions and from Western plutocratic governments such as the U.S. that were (and are) under the sway of their brethren. These advantages brought the Polish workers into Solidarity.

It is ironic that it was Jewish Communists who destroyed Poland's economy in the '40's and '50's through "Stalinization", and that it was the sons of those same Communists who wrecked the Polish economy again in the 1980's through the strikes of Solidarity.

Now the Jews who run Solidarity are negotiating with the government to turn Poland into a capitalist plutocracy where Jewish money can rule as it does in America, Britain, France, etc. In fact, the leaders of Solidarity are so anxious to become a plutocracy that they caved into the demands of the government for an agreement that their workers would receive only 80% of inflation in their annual wage increases. The federation of Communist labor organizations (OPZ), on the other hand, has demanded 100% compensation for inflation. The Polish workers have lost faith in Solidarity because of this sort Machiavellian maneuver, and the union is now down to well below half of its peak strength of 10 million in 1981.

The Jews have abused the trust of the Polish workers, and now that more freedom is coming, it is likely that truly nationalist organizations and political parties will arise which will educate the people as to the program and actions of the Jews. One such organization is Grunwald, the Polish equivalent of Pamyat. Grunwald has been suppressed by the government in the past, but that may not be the case in the future. Nationalism and anti-Semitism have long and powerful traditions in Eastern Europe and they will emerge again.

THE CAPITALIST PANACEA WILL FAIL

Under Communism working class Eastern Europeans were poor, but at least they worked and most everyone else was poor. Under capitalism, millions of them will become unemployed, and they and their families will live in a grinding poverty that they cannot imagine while the Jews and the capitalists live richly. For most Eastern Europeans capitalism is a fantasy world in which they all get rich. It will not take long for the truth to dawn upon them. When the East German government began to broadcast West German television into the homes of its citizens, all desire to flee to the West dissipated. The East Germans began to realize that the chaos, violence, crime, drug addiction, and multiracialism of capitalism benefit only one class. The other East Europeans will quickly realize the same thing once their countries become capitalist plutocracies, and out of their disaffection will come a cry for a Third Way beyond capitalism and communism. White Nationalism will be reborn! GG

Professional Anti-Communists in a Quandry

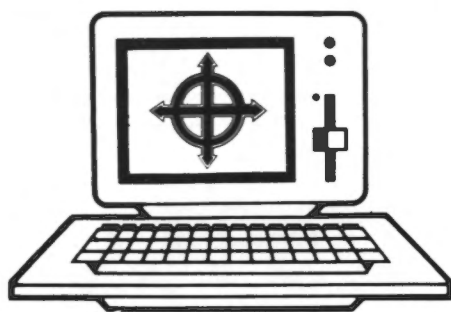

Perhaps the best of the anti-communist newsletters is written by Dr. Fred Schwarz who runs the Christian Anti-Communism Crusade (CACC), P.O. Box 890, Long Beach, CA 90801. Schwarz is a Jew from Australia who was formerly a member of the Communist Party there and who is now a Christian, or so he says. You can receive his newsletter free simply by asking for it, and that is because the CACC receives millions of dollars each year in contributions from Christians. Schwarz knows his subject inside and out, and the newsletter is well worth reading, but what leads us to believe that he may not be a genuine Christian is: 1) there is no Christian ideology in the newsletter, 2) he signs his letters "With Christian love" which can certainly be interpreted in different ways (considering the "love" with which the Christians have treated their enemies in the past) and which may be a joke on the Goyim, and 3) the enormous profitability of a "Christian Crusade."

THE DECOMMUNIZING OF COMMUNISM

The CACC newsletter is written clearly and precisely, and with great insight. But the present turn of events in the Soviet Union (and the de-communizing process that has been going on for nearly a decade in China) has thrown the professional anti-communists into confusion. For example, Schwarz points out that in his book Perestroika, Gorbachev praises the collectivization of agriculture, but that now he is dismantling collectivized farms in favor of family farms. Schwarz asks, "Should we believe Gorbachev's words or his deeds - or neither?" Schwarz does not answer his own question, but it presumes that Gorbachev is in control of the Soviet Empire. In fact, Gorbachev and the Communist Party have climbed onto the back of a tiger. Probably because they had no choice - better the back of the tiger than to sink slowly but inevitably into the quicksand beneath their feet. Nevertheless, the tiger goes where it will. The Communists will be lucky if they can dismount and remain uneaten. The professional anti-communists will have to change their assumptions about the control exercised by the various communist parties in order to predict the future of communism.

HOW A COMMUNIST WORKS

Professional Anti-Communists

"How does a Communist operate? To understand this question, it is necessary to understand the doctrines of Communism which are collectively known as Marxism-Leninism. The Communists are a small minority, yet the achievement of the goals of Communism require the actions of large groups of people who are not Communists. The Communists seek to achieve this through the harnessing and control of social forces.

What is a social force? It is anything that can mobilize a substantial number of people and move them to concerted action. This may be the longing for national liberation from a foreign power or a home-grown tyrant; it may be a longing to own land; it may be the desire to make a profit; it may be fear of an impending catastrophe. There are many social forces.

The Communists are convinced that they are social scientists who can harness these forces, control them and utilize them to attain specific objectives just as the nautical scientist, the sailor, can harness and control the wind and utilize it to drive a ship to a chosen destination. The Communist social scientists seek to use the shared emotions of groups of people. They do this by following the formula:

Find out what people want, promise it to them, go to work to get it for them, and thereby gain their support, which you can use for your own purpose.

To the Communists, it matters little whether the social force is in harmony or in conflict with the ultimate goals of Communism. Any force can be used to help them come to power. Once in power they can impose their will.

EXAMPLES OF RUSSIA AND CHINA

Consider how the Communists came to power in Russia and China. The Communists discerned that great numbers of people were eager to own land. The slogan of Lenin and his Bolsheviks was Bread, Peace and Land. Mao Zedong and his Chinese Communist cohorts were known as Agrarian Reformers. It did not matter that one of the ultimate objectives of Communism has always been the abolition of private property. The famous Manifesto of the Communist Party, written by Karl Marx and Frederick Engels, makes this lucidly clear. It states: Our objective can be summed up in one sentence - abolition of Private Property. Lenin needed the support of the Russian peasants in order to overthrow the Russian government. He secured this by promising land to them.

Once the Russian Communists were in power, they actually gave land to the peasants while the Communists proceeded to build their Red Army and consolidate their power. It took twelve years for the Communists to feel strong enough to take the land from the peasants and impose their real program of collective ownership.

Thus, a more complete statement of the program of the Communists during their pursuit of power is: Find out what people want, promise it to them, gain their support so that you can come to power over them; give them what you have promised temporarily, and take it from them when the time is considered appropriate."

Nikita Khrushchev rejected the Communism of his boss Josef Stalin.

Dear Sir,

I recently saw one of your members on the Morton Downey Show [Mike Sokoloski]. Downey's show is the biggest mess I have ever seen. He has more non-White bull on his show than anyone I've ever watched. I admired the stand that your member took. It's time that we take a stand because it won't be long before sides begin choosing up. All these Blacks, Jews, liberal Whites, and fiscal conservatives say that Whites are the only racists.... Gary,

"What No One Will Say in the Gun Control Debate", Good Article!

To add a little if I might. In 1768 John Hancock, James Otis and others met in Boston and passed this resolution:

---[citizens] may have arms for their defence and defence of the community.... every soldier and other householder... shall always be provided with a well fix'd musket, accoutrements, and ammunition....

LETTERS

In 1833 Justice Story described the right to keep and bear arms as "a strong moral check against the usurpation and arbitrary powers of rulers."

In 1859 the Texas Supreme Court put it more bluntly, "The people cannot be effectually oppressed and enslaved, who are not first disarmed."

After the Bolshevik-Jewish revolution which impaled the Russian people on Communism, Robert Wilton (who served in the Russian Army) wrote in The Last of the Romanovs that out of the 546 top leaders of the revolution, 447 were Jews. He gave their Jewish names and the Russian names they assumed to deceive the Russian populace. One of the first things the Judeo-Communists did was make firearms illegal for the citizenry.

Interesting, then, that the two bills in Congress which will efficaciously disarm the American citizen are authored by Howard Metzenbaum and Howard Berman - both Jews!

Dear Gary Gallo,

I have read all the back issues of The Nationalist and New America. Believe me, I was impressed - very impressed. I intend to read them all over again at my leisure. Every article written by Gary Gallo, and several others, are the most informative and articulate I have read anywhere. I have not come across such ideology and knowledge in all the newsletters and newspapers on Populism, Patriotism, White Race issues, etc. to which I have subscribed over the past ten years.

The Nationalist and New America should be widely circulated amongst White high school and college students. The history lessons alone (in New America) which are not taught in our schools is worth the effort. They would be as impressed as I was to find out some of the truths of our history which have been hidden and twisted around to suit the System....

My best wishes for all your effort,

Sincerely,

NEW AMERICA - The Radical Voice of American Nationalism

New America is the ideological and historical journal of the National Democratic Front. It exposes the half-truths, historical lies and hypocrisies upon which the present plutocratic System is based, and it reveals and explains the eternal principles of nationalism that guide the NDF. Our ideas are drawn from an historical and scientific analysis that follows truth wherever it may lead. New America No.4 is concerned primarily with the issue of race:

- On Nationalism, Part IV: Racial Freedom This article outlines the NDF's official position on Race. Who is in, who is out, and why.
- Books in NDF Review
  - Drylongso by John Gwaltney - A most revealing self-portrait of Blacks and Black life in America. This book makes one realize how alien White culture is to Blacks, and how different we really are from one another.
  - The March Up Country by Harold Covington - A critical analysis of a book that purports to be a manual for White revolutionaries.

Environmentalist Utilities

The Northeast Utilities Company used to be in a war with environmentalists over the ill-fated Seabrook nuclear power plant. But now the Massachusetts government has ordered the public utility to cooperate with environmentalists, and amazingly that is just what it is doing. The former attitude of the utility was to build new power plants to produce as much energy as was demanded. But now the Massachusetts legislature has made it clear that it wants no more new plants and their attendant pollution. The new goal of Northeast Utilities is to get businesses and consumers to conserve energy and become so much more efficient that new plants will not have to built.

The money that was to be invested in new plants is now being put into energy-saving programs that have been suggested by environmentalists and their paid consultants. Surprisingly, the utility readily agreed to pay for the hire of these consultants by the environmentalists. One program they suggested was to lend money to consumers and businesses in order for them to buy and install expensive but very efficient light bulbs and electrical devices. The money would be paid back monthly out of the savings on the electric bill. For example, one factory paid out $1 million to install new energy-saving light bulbs, but half the initial cost came from Northeast Utilities. It is unlikely that the factory would have converted to the efficient devices, despite long-term savings, because of the enormous capital required. Northeast Utilities is an example of what can be accomplished for conservation by our public utilities once management adopts the attitude that efficiency is the top priority. But we should recognize that this runs against the grain of the bureaucrat whose natural inclination is to expand his empire rather than cut away the fat. We must find ways to reward our bureaucrats for making their domains leaner and more effective.

An Energy Panacea?

When chemists Dr. Stanley Pons of the University of Utah and Dr. Martin Fleischmann of Britain announced that they had produced fusion by running an electrical current through heavy water between two palladium poles, the scientific world went into a tizzy. At first nuclear physicists said that it was faulty science, but since the experiment has been confirmed at Stanford University, they are now saying that it is not a form of fusion but some extraordinary chemical reaction that produces 50% more energy than it consumes. The physicists are very sensitive about this because for years they have failed to produce a fusion reactor that produces more energy than it consumes. The reason fusion is so important is because it produces much less dangerous waste than nuclear power generated through fission, and the fuel for fusion, heavy water, can be extracted from sea water of which there is an abundance.

As a practical matter, whether this is a fusion reaction or a chemical reaction is unimportant. What is important is whether it can be reproduced on a large scale to boil water, to create steam, to turn turbines that generate electrical power. The critical factors seem to be the cost of extracting heavy water from sea water and the cost of the necessary palladium. If this process turns out to be feasible we will be blessed with cheap energy (once again) and that should usher in a new era of prosperity.

SHORT BURSTS

Who Could It Be?

Someone, we don't know who but their initials could be ADL, is releasing information on the donors to the David Duke campaign to local newspapers in order to embarrass those contributors. Everyone who contributed more than $200.00 must be identified for the public record. Harry Galbraith of Knoxville, Tennessee, for example, gave a $1000.00 contribution to Duke, and shortly after the election he found an article about his contribution on the front page of the Knoxville Sentinel. Certainly this is front page news, right? Galbraith owns a small business called Galbraith Laboratories, and no doubt the Jews and their plutocratic allies on the Knoxville Sentinel would like to see his business, which was also mentioned in the article, suffer. It will not be long before these tactics begin to backfire, and businesses will benefit from opposition to the Jews and multiracialists. In fact, it will not be long before the Jews begin to feel the sting of the boycott. When Whites buy White, the businesses of the rest will collapse.

Economists Begin to See the Light

Ravi Batra is an Indian-born economist who has written a provocative book entitled The Great Depression of 1990. Batra's thesis is that recessions turn into depressions when, and only when, there is a maldistribution of the wealth. Specifically, when the top 1% approach ownership of 40% of the wealth, as is the case right now in the U.S., a recession can spiral down into depression. His arguments are not entirely convincing, nevertheless, the remedy he proposes sounds much like the NDF program. Unlike economists, we see economic policy as a tool to achieve political, rather than economic, objectives. We are determined to redistribute the wealth in order to allow all of our people to live well and in order to achieve a long lasting unity free of divisive class-consciousness. Preventing depressions is not our purpose, but it would certainly be a nice side effect.

Another interesting aspect of the Batra book is the favorable forward written for it by Lester Thurow, Professor of Management and Economics at MIT. Thurow is one of the best of the System economists and is an advisor to the Democratic Party. He was one of the first to admit that there must be something fundamentally wrong with conventional economic theory after the Carter years in which we had both rising unemployment and rising inflation. The capitalist economists assured us that this was an impossibility before it happened, and now most of them ignore it as if it did not happen. Thurow is honest enough to attempt to come to grips with the failure of both Monetarist and Keynesian capitalist theory. This is no doubt why he encouraged Batra to publish his radical ideas.

Another economist from the University of Maryland, Mancur Olsen, published a theory that is complementary to Batra's in Rise and decline of Nations. Olsen maintained that the forces within capitalism move inevitably toward monopoly. That the most successful capitalists use their wealth to buy the politicians who then pass laws which further stifle competition to the benefit of those few capitalists. As Adam Smith explained in The Wealth of Nations, free enterprise can only be efficient where competition is atomistic. The monopolistic practices of capitalism eventually and inevitably undermine this efficiency and cause the economic decline of the nation according to Olsen (whose book is on the reading list recommended for NDF members.)

Below are the changes in economic policy Batra says will prevent depression:

- 1) The maximum salary in any industry should be no more than ten times the minimum wage.
- 2) Industries producing essential raw materials and products should be divided into smaller competing units in order to prevent monopolistic private owners from blackmailing the society.
- 3) The majority stock of large corporations should be distributed among the employees who will elect the board of directors.
- 4) Private initiative and investment should be limited to small corporations or proprietorships.
- 5) There should be ceilings on inherited wealth linked to the minimum wage.
- 6) The government budget should be balanced over the business cycle, that is, the budget should have a surplus when the economy is booming and a deficit when the economy is in recession.
- 7) Money growth should equal the average growth of the economy over the business cycle. It should be raised during recessions and reduced during booms.
- 8) Otherwise government intervention in the economy should be kept at a minimum. It should aim mainly at maintaining competition among economic agents and promoting the interests of the disadvantaged.

A Question of Social Justice

Did you know that the wealth of the 400 richest Americans equals the savings that all other Americans have in commercial banks? Is it fair that the rich man works for $100,000 an hour while we work for $10 an hour? Is he that much smarter than we are? Is he more honest? More honorable? More committed to his people? No! He is less than us in all these things. What he is better at is lying, cheating and stealing. He is the master of greed and self-interest, and he can restrain moral conscience better than we can. Does the big capitalist really deserve to live in the lap of luxury while we live paycheck to paycheck as wage-slaves in his companies? The capitalist media love to tell us how clever the rich are. Do these robber-barons really deserve praise - or prison?

In our plutocracy, the rich buy the corrupt politicians and then shape the law for their own financial benefit. And that is why millions of hard-working White Americans live in desperate poverty. Two-thirds of the poor in this country work full-time jobs. Try to support a family on the minimum wage and you will understand their plight. The rich have their political puppets create all sorts of tax loopholes, shelters and credits such that they pay very little tax - and often no tax - on vast income and holdings. Millions of children go hungry in this country simply because the plutocrats refuse to distribute the wealth fairly. The big capitalists are too selfish to live simply so that others need not live in poverty. Such is the nature of our "leadership."

Our capitalist "leaders" continue to import millions of coloreds for ever cheaper labor while millions of Whites go unemployed and while millions of other Whites are forced into lower-paying "service sector" jobs. They dismantle our industries at home to build new factories abroad all in the name of greater profit. But profit for whom? The race? The nation? No, for them! These people care for nothing but themselves, and they have plundered the country for their own benefit. They richly deserve the fate that the National Democratic Front will bestow on them when our revolution succeeds.

If you are White and feel the rage that we do at such injustice, then help us overthrow this multiracialist plutocracy and establish a pure White nation that will serve the needs of all of its people. Every people should have the power of self-determination, and we are determined to get that power for White Americans.
