BULLETIN

OFFICIAL INTERNAL ORGAN OF THE
National Socialist White Peoples Party AND THE National Socialist Youth Movement

No. 40

15 April, 1969 YF 80

"If as the first task of the state in the service and for the welfare of its nationality we recognize the preservation, care, and development of the best racial elements, it is natural that this care must not only extend to the birth of every little national and racial comrade, but that it must educate the young offspring to become a valuable link in the chain of future reproduction. . .

Realizing this, the folkish state must not adjust its entire educational work primarily to the inoculation of mere knowledge, but to the breeding of absolutely healthy bodies. The training of mental abilities is only secondary. And here again, first place must be taken by the development of character, especially the promotion of will-power and determination, combined with the training of joy in responsibility, and only in last place comes scientific schooling."

Plans for Student Organizing Laid at NSLF Conference

The first conference of the National Socialist Liberation Front was held in Arlington on 6 and 7 April. The two day conference outlined the tactics to be employed by the NSLF in organizing campus resistance to the influences of left-wing student organizations such as Students for a Democratic Society, as well as the positive goals for building solid, fighting National Socialist cadres on campuses. Tactics for organizing similar programs in high schools also were discussed.

National Leader Koehl delivering opening statement at the first conference of the National Socialist Liberation Front.

The conference was divided into six separate sessions, opened by National Leader Koehl who spoke on the Phase Two objectives of the Party and how the activities of the NSLF figured into the development of the Movement at this time.

He pointed out that the Party must take its struggle to America's universities not only because they have become the focal point for the activities of our racial enemies, but also because much of the future strength of the Party will come from university students who are sincerely dedicated to the idea of building a better world. Many disillusioned idealists from America's colleges and universities will inevitably see through the dual fraud of democracy and Marxism. The immediate purpose of the NSLF is to organize students who are ready to make a commitment to National Socialism into disciplined nuclei which will provide the future leadership for a mass movement among college and university students.

The following two sessions were presided over by Robert Lloyd, the Party's Executive Officer. They dealt with organization and tactics. He pointed out that until the NSLF has developed its own campus organizations, its activities will have to rely greatly on the participation of NSWPP Members and Supporters within the localities of the colleges. Therefore, activities of the NSLF will have to be closely co-ordinated by National Headquarters.

Mr. Lloyd also talked about the tactical problems encountered in distributing literature and organizing. Special emphasis was laid on the necessity and methods of follow-up work in organizing sympathetic support into effective activity for the NSLF. Also discussed were methods for obstructing the activities of the Left, including the disruption of their meetings and the smashing of their parades, etc.

William Pierce, the Party's Information Officer addressed the conference on NSLF propaganda. The first of his two talks dealt with the approach of propaganda in the colleges. Dr. Pierce pointed out in this talk that it was of first importance that the propaganda of the NSLF never appear to defend the present order of things by its stringent opposition to New Left, which also opposes the System. The uniqueness of National Socialism, as an idea wholly different from both democracy as well as Marxism, conservatism as well as liberalism, must be emphasized.

His first presentation was followed by a survey of campus propaganda of the revolutionary Left as a means to understanding the requirements of propaganda for "reaching" the university mentality. This was followed by an explanation of NSLF propaganda methods, including format, design and production.

The conference included a workshop in which each participant was assigned a separate hypothetical campus situation which could potentially be exploited for NSLF support. Drawing on the previous lectures, the participants were asked to write, design and produce an effective piece of propaganda for their situation using nothing more than a typewriter and a mimeograph machine, and to devise a plan to action and organization to fully exploit the circumstances. In addition, the assignment called for a follow-up plan to organize the resulting, sympathetic support into some form of tangible advancement for the NS cause. Each project was later discussed by all participants. The free exchange of ideas prompted a number of new ideas which profited all present.

National Leader Koehl closed the conference with a strong reminder to NSLF Members that they are to think of themselves as National Socialists first, rather than students following their own educational pursuits, and incidentally engaging in politics. Only by absolute dedication to our Race can we survive the onslaught on our enemies in this century. Therefore, Mr. Koehl asserted that their primary role as students was to organize the NSLF and spread National Socialism, with their studies and personal edification taking a "back seat" to NS activism.

Concluding the conference, Mr. Koehl announced that regional conferences of the NSLF would be held in the Fall in those areas which show the greatest activism.

NSLF Organizing Scores Results

The National Socialist Liberation Front is already catching on in at least one large university. Members of the NSLF and NSWPP have been working hard organizing and distributing NSLF literature at Kent State University in Ohio. Results were scored when a small NSLF cadre led several hundred Kent Staters in a violent melee with the local chapter of the SDS, the largest one in Ohio. The conflict came over the occupation of a campus building by the SDS in protest of seven SDSers suspension the previous week.

After the fifty-nine SDSers were routed from the building, they were attacked by a mob led by the NSLF. During the bloody fight, the students shouted "Kill the SDS." Many shouted "Death to the Jew traitors" and "White Power!"

Although the newspaper accounts of the incident gave no credit to the NSLF or the NSWPP for organizing the student opposition, the conflict was clearly the result of the work previously done by the NSLF on the campus and the leadership for the conflict was provided by Party Members; the first blows, in fact, were struck by members of the National Socialist Socialist Liberation Front.

It should not be considered too much of a disappointment that the press ignored the role of the NSLF in this conflict. Many such incidents will have to be sparked before recognition of the NSLF on America's campuses can be hoped for. Only when the NSLF becomes a major threat to the activities of the SDS and other leftists will the Jews be unable to suppress news of its existence. The important thing to recognize about this incident is that (1) large numbers of students already support the ideas of the NSLF and will participate in NSLF action under the right circumstances, and (2) the NSLF can provide the leadership for active resistance to campus left-wing movements.

But it should also be remembered that mass action of the type recently experienced at Kent State is not the immediate goal of the NSLF. The primary objective of the NSLF at this time should be (1) the careful development of National Socialist leaders and cadres on campuses and in high schools, and (2) the introduction of NSLF ideas through its propaganda to the student bodies. Only when these two steps have been successfully completed can effective mass action be exploited.

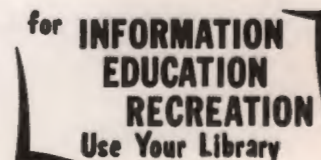

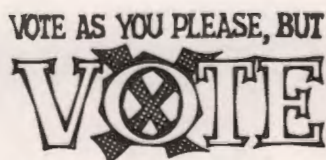

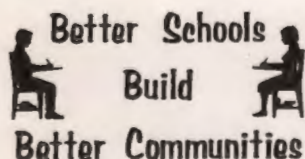

Special Offer on NS Calendars

There are a few 1969 National Socialist Commemorative calendars being sold through NS Publications at half price, $1 each. The NS commemorative calendar will be a valuable memento of 1969, in which we celebrate three major anniversaries: the 80th birthday of Adolf Hitler, the 50th anniversary of the National Socialist Movement, and the 10th anniversary of the founding of the Party. In addition, the calendar is also good for more than half of this year.

Order the 1969 National Socialist commemorative calendar for $1 each from NS Publication—box 5505—Arlington, Virginia 22205.

Meter Stamp Contest

The envelope in which you received this issue of the NS Bulletin has the postage printed on by a special new machine which has recently been acquired by the Party. Besides enabling one man to handle the same amount of mail quicker than it used to take four men to handle the same amount, this machine offers the opportunity of printing an advertisement for the Party on each envelope along with the postage at no extra effort or cost. Below are a few sample leads which are printable with the new machine.

The above sample advertisements can be printed by the Party's new postage machine. They are reproduced above in their actual size.

The NSWPP is conducting this contest to give all Members and Supporters a chance to help in devising an ad. The National Leader will select the three best advertisements from those submitted and award the following to the winners: for the best ad, a new 3 X 5 foot Swastika banner; for the second best ad, a large canister of Chemical Billy, the best non-lethal self-defense a person can own; for the third best ad, a copy of Commander Rockwell's political masterpiece White Power. (Those who already own a copy of White Power will find an extra copy valuable for introducing new people to the NSWPP. They also make excellent donations for your local library.)

Please follow these simple rules in submitting your ideas for ads:

1. Advertisements must meet two qualifications for content: a. The ads must be subtle enough to be printed on a piece of Party mail without shocking any person receiving the mail; that is to say, content of the ad must be esoteric enough that it has no political significance to a non-National Socialist. A good rule of thumb to apply to any ad you submit is this: "Would I feel safe having mail come to my home with this ad printed on the envelope?" Remember that there may be some whose circumstances are less favorable for receiving Party mail than your own, so your ad will have to have very mild National Socialist connotations. Ads will be judged largely on the acceptability of their content to those who cannot be "exposed." b. All ads must be approved by the Post Office before they can be used. Therefore, ads will have to be presented in good taste.
2. There is no limit to the number of ads you may submit, but all ads must be entered on cards or paper separate from other correspondence, with your name and address clearly indicated on each sheet containing entries. Also indicate if you would not want your name disclosed in event you win.
3. Make your ads neat. They must conform to the size of the above samples.
4. Enter all ads before June 15. Winners will be announced July 1.

National Headquarters Adopts Standards for Appearance

Standards for the appearance of participants in all public activities have been adopted for operations conducted under the auspices of National Headquarters. In order to give the sharpest possible contrast in physical appearance with our leftist enemies, the following standards of dress and appearance are now mandatory at National Headquarters:

Hair is to be trimmed to a reasonable length; no "Beatle" or shaggy hair is permitted. Sideburns can be worn no longer than the middle of the ear.

Dark trousers and light colored dress shirt are to be freshly pressed and worn with dark, polished shoes (no boots). The Party pin or White Power button should be worn on the left side of the chest!

A neat, hygenic appearance is essential for all persons who publicly represent the Party in any way. It should be borne in mind that any recipient of a leaflet will make his mind up, to a large extent, whether or not he is in favor of the leaflet's contents by his impression of the person from whom he received the literature.

White Power Newspaper Drive

A large number of new subscriptions to the Party newspaper have been sold as a result of the April activity of the month (subscription drive for White Power), but some Members and Supporters have not sent in any new subscriptions! Therefore, the subscription drive is being extended to May 15. Until that time, everyone is asked to concentrate major effort on selling new subscriptions to White Power. Those who have not yet sold six subscriptions have an extra few weeks to fulfill their activity. Those who have not yet sold their first subscription—get a move on!

Extra subscription blanks will be provided to anyone who needs them.

Heil Hitler!
