Commander Leads Party Tribute to "Great Repatriator"

A contingent of Party members and Stormtroopers headed by Commander Koehl on 12 February placed a wreath at the Lincoln Memorial to call attention to the fact that, far from being the race-mixer usually portrayed by liberals, the 16th President actually stood for racial separation and repatriation of the Blacks. All the standard "respectable" organizations were there, of course, and were visibly shocked as the National Socialists paid homage to "the Great Repatriator." The event received national news coverage equaling the President's own wreath-laying, as shown by the following article.

Abraham Lincoln's Birthday Honored

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Mounds of floral tributes — including one from President Nixon and another bearing a golden nazi swastika — were laid at the brooding statue of Abraham Lincoln Saturday to honor the martyred President's 163rd birthday anniversary.

A crowd of about 500 persons shivered through colorful noontime ceremonies, staged for the 50th consecutive year by the Military Order of the Loyal Legion on the steps of the Lincoln Memorial.

Nixon's wreath, the largest of the lot, was placed first at the base of the 19-foot-high statue of the seated 16th President by Rep. Robert McClory, R-Ill., who also read a brief message from Nixon.

Composed of red and white carnations and trimmed with a huge red, white and blue bow, the wreath carried an engraved card reading simply, "The President."

McClory, accompanied by his wife and Maj. Gen. Roland M. Gleszer, commanding general of the Military District of Washington, followed an army sergeant bearing the wreath slowly up the long marble steps through an honor guard of service men holding flags of the states as the navy band played the Civil War-era "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Similar, smaller wreaths were then placed one by one by representatives of the diplomatic corps, the Interior Department, the mayor of Washington, the National Park Service and the Loyal Legion — a group formed April 15, 1865, the day Lincoln died from an assassin's bullet — to honor and defend his ideals. The legion is now restricted to descendants of Civil War officers. After "Taps" was sounded, wreaths and bouquets were also placed by 24 veterans, patriotic and civic groups.

Helmets, uniformed members of the National Socialist White People's Party — once known as the American Nazi Party — arrived early, hoping to lay a wreath of their own. It carried a glittering gold-painted swastika and a red satin banner reading, "Abraham Lincoln — Champion of Racial Separation," together with a quote attributed to him opposing social and political equality for blacks.

"We believe we are the true inheritors of Lincoln's traditions," the group's commander, Matt Koehl, told UPI in an interview. "Lincoln was one of America's foremost racists and this is a fact that is commonly obscured."

But officials refused to let the 12-man NSWPP contingent participate in the official ceremony and police kept them across the street from the memorial until the 45-minute pageant was over. The group then marched briskly through the surging crowd of tourists up the steps of the Memorial — where park rangers allowed only Koehl and one other man in to lay the wreath at the foot of the Lincoln statue. A tourist couple began talking excitedly in German as they spotted the swastika arm-bands on the two men and gasped when Koehl snapped a straight-arm nazi salute turning on his heel to march out.

As he and his men marched back to their yellow bus emblazoned with a sign reading "Boycott Busing," a burly park ranger picked up the neo-nazi wreath from in front of the statue and placed it far to the rear. A number of tourists cheered. There were no other incidents.

Six Washington motorcycle policemen escorted the bus to the nearest Potomac River bridge leading to the group's Arlington, Va., headquarters.

Commander Journeys to Richmond for Confrontations

On 15 February, Commander Koehl took the Party's famous "Boycott Busing" vehicle along with a crew of Stormtroopers to Richmond, Va., to confront Federal Judge Robert R. Merhige, Jr. Merhige is the creature responsible for the criminal decision calling for the massive busing of small, innocent White children in suburban counties to inner-city blackboard jungles.

Armed with a powerful statement of contempt, the Commander planned on dropping in on this anti-White pig and defying his two-bit tyranny. But when the Commander arrived, the judge's chambers were empty. "His Honor" had conveniently ducked out!

Gov. Linwood Holton, however, was at the state capitol. Refusing to come out of his office and meet the Commander, he made a weak excuse and dispatched an aide. The Commander told the aide that either Holton should provide White Virginians with the forceful leadership they want against busing, or resign immediately.

Extensive coverage of Commander Koehl's two appearances were carried in Richmond and Washington-area newspapers, as well as a number of radio and television stations. Some of this publicity appears below.

School Contempt Try Fails

RICHMOND (UPD)—The Commander of the National Socialist White People's Party failed Tuesday in an attempt to present a statement of contempt to the Federal Judge who ordered the merger of Richmond area schools.

Matt Koehl and two self-styled Nazi "storm troopers" were stopped at the first floor elevator of the Federal building by U.S. marshals and security guards. They were told U.S. District Judge Robert Merhige was not in his third floor office.

Koehl asked to see the judge's secretary, but was told she, too, could not see him.

"He's probably hiding under a flat rock somewhere," Koehl told newsmen outside the building later. "We'll look the judge up another time."

Koehl, dressed in black pants and brown shirt with a Swastika armband, said he wanted to present Merhige with a statement declaring his "contempt" for those who, for reasons of political expediency, would trample arrogantly and recklessly over the rights, the liberties and the wishes of the white majority of these United States.

Merhige's order merging Richmond's mostly black schools with the predominantly white suburban districts of Chesterfield and Henrico counties has been bitterly denounced by anti-busing groups.

Koehl earlier tried to meet with Gov. Linwood Holton at the State Capitol just across the street from the Federal Court building. Holton, however, said he was in a meeting, and Koehl, of Arlington, Va., met instead with John Ritchie, one of Holton's aides.

Ritchie read a statement by Holton issued last week in response to criticism by white parents for what they called his "weak stand" against busing. Holton said then he was against busing but had a constitutional obligation to preserve quality education in the State.

Koehl said after the meeting that it was obvious Holton "doesn't have a policy to oppose busing when it comes down to the nitty gritty."

Koehl, his two bodyguards and several other members of the party were traveling in a converted yellow school bus with a sign saying "boycott busing." On the back of the bus was a sign with an arrow pointing to the vehicle's exhaust pipe. It read: "gas race mixers."

New Information Center Opened in Los Angeles

A new Party center was opened in Los Angeles County 5 February. Organized by Party Comrades Frank Smith and Dan Stewart, the new facility is located at 1609 W. Garvey Ave. in West Covina, about ten miles from the El Monte headquarters. This is directly along the San Bernardino freeway, the busiest and biggest thoroughfare in the Los Angeles area. The building is highly visible due to the gigantic Aryan Cross signs on the roof announcing the building's location.

As expected, local politicians, encouraged by Jews and a few cranks, have kicked up a big fuss and ordered the signs removed. Party lawyers have termed the action unconstitutional and petty harassment.

With all the recent publicity given Los Angeles National Socialists (thanks to the Jews, see NSB number 103), the Party there is growing by leaps and bounds. The phone number of the new location is (213) 962-7918.

Nazis Vow to Remain Despite W. Covina Ire

Mayor Says City to Make Group Abide by Laws; No Authority to Force Them Out

BY CHARLES ELWELL
Times Staff Writer

WEST COVINA—The new Nazi Party outpost overlooking the San Bernardino Freeway has raised the ire of city officials, neighboring businesses and residents, but Nazi leaders say they are "here to stay and nobody is going to force us out of town."

Mayor Kenneth Chapell said, "By no figure of the imagination are the Nazis an asset to this city. You have to remember people of my age were in a World War against the Nazis not too long ago and we certainly are against anybody who advocates the overthrow of our government as they do."

But storm trooper Dan Stewart said he and his fellow Nazis are used by branch office near the freeway, "the Nazis will continue to be unwanted. He said the city ordinance against them is a violation of the First Amendment. He said they are not a threat to the city and they are not a threat to the city."

Stanley Spierer, commander of Post 1776, said, "If we don't have an ordinance prohibiting the distribution of this hate literature, which is already being passed around in part of us."

Stewart said the West Covina branch would be a new Nazi and would be a threat to the city.

WWII Veterans Protest Nazi W. Covina Branch

WEST COVINA—More than 100 members of the American Legion, the Disabled American Veterans and the Veterans of Foreign Wars protested at the West Covina City Council meeting Monday.

Spokesman told the city officials that it must take immediate action to head off a collision between the World War II veterans and members of the Nazi Party occupying the building at 1609 W. Garvey Ave., now flying a Swastika.

Stewart said the West Covina branch would be a new Nazi and would be a threat to the city.

The National Socialist White Party has established a branch in West Covina, like their counterparts in other cities.

Why should we have to fight them again? City officials assured the veterans that they would pursue pending charges against the Nazis.

Party on the Move in Northern California

Party Comrades in the Northern California community of Tracy have been making tremendous strides in recent months. By tireless distributions of Party literature, personal contacts and regular letters-to-the-editor, they have succeeded in creating tremendous local controversy. Messages of "White Power" have been appearing extensively on buildings and bridges in the area. A sample is shown below.

WHITE POWER signs such as this seen throughout the city have aroused curiosity among Tracyletes who wondered about the existence of a Nazi-oriented party in Tracy. A small group of Tracy people are members of the National Socialist White People's Party, formerly the Nazi Party. Work in Tracy has involved distributing "white power" literature. The group doesn't admit to the sign painting itself, but says it may have been done by young supporters.

New York Activist Stirs Long Island, College

A young Party activist, David Kerr, severely shook up Hofstra University recently by hanging an Aryan Cross banner out of his dorm window. New York newspapers have run screaming headlines over the incident and National Headquarters has been besieged with inquiries and interviews as a result. Though threatened by a Jew lynch mob, Mr. Kerr has been undeterred.

Dave Kerr also participated in a campaign with other local activists to get a number of pro-White books on the shelves of Brightwaters Public Library. Although they succeeded in getting these books into the South Shore Library, a subsidiary of the Long Island-Suffolk Cooperative Library System, the Brightwaters Library refused them. According to its director: "The freedom to read is essential to our democracy. It is continually under attack . . ." The directors of the Brightwaters Library categorically refused the material because they would "never accept publications of a Nazi nature, whether or not they were free."

The actions of Mr. Kerr stand as a model for all National Socialists and affirm once again the eternally correct teachings of the greatest White men of all time, Adolf Hitler and Lincoln Rockwell!

International News Agency Interviews Commander

Gamma Productions, an international news agency serving magazines in 46 nations in Europe, the Middle East and Asia interviewed Commander Koehl at National Headquarters on 8 February. Many photos were taken of the National Headquarters. Should the material be widely distributed, it may prove to be the most extensive world news coverage the Party has yet received!

The Unwisdom of Stockpiling Illegal Weapons

"Wow, look what I bought – a super-duper, fully automatic Albanian assault rifle!" "That's nothing, I have TWO genuine, certified Czechoslovakian howitzers with detachable grenade launchers!"

While gun buffs such as these waste their time in endless hours of idle DANGEROUS conversation about the illegal hardware they've acquired "for the coming revolution," the National Socialist White Peoples Party – with its endless string of political successes – is already in the process of making the revolution! Not one of these screwball fetishists will go out on a leaflet distribution, or participate in a simple picket or rally or risk their necks and liberties in a real-live confrontation with the enemy in the streets. Yet they try to palm off the notion that they're actually doing something by buying stockpiles of illegal weapons.

The keeping of small arms to defend one's life and home is fine. But you would think that the imprisonment of one prominent political leader should be enough to bring even the most rabid gun fetishist to the sobering realization that the road to political power does not begin with stockpiling costly supplies of exotic military hardware in basement cellars and weed patches, but rather with political involvement and activism, IMMEDIATE confrontation with the enemy in the streets and inspiring the masses through heroic example. Yet each year, these characters collect more and more illegal weaponry and each year more and more of them are sent to federal prison – all without accomplishing one single bit of good through their stupidity.

Adolf Hitler once said that one courageous man with a knotty stick was worth more than a hundred cowards with pistols. Any man who is afraid to go on a picket, hand out a leaflet or face a punk Jew or creep will not have the guts to use any gun you might give him "come the revolution." What White people lack today is not guns, but GUTS! So let's concentrate on getting some guts and reject all those fetishists who hide in closets.

At the same time, let us be especially on guard against enemy pimps and provocateurs who talk about illegal guns and explosives. Contact National Headquarters immediately if you are approached by one of these finks.
