Milwaukee Election Campaign Spreads the Word

In the past two weeks the Milwaukee Unit's tremendous efforts in Comrade Art Jones' election campaign have gained unprecedented amounts of publicity for the Movement. The Unit, with the help of many Midwest District activists, has been using several innovative measures to publicize the Party candidate and his views. Among these are bought-and-paid-for radio and TV commercials — a first in Party history. Motor caravans, with "Vote for Jones" signs and PA systems, have been attracting considerable attention. Activists have also blanketed White neighborhoods with nearly 60,000 specially designed, professional-looking campaign leaflets.

This torrent of political activity has brought the inevitable reaction from the Jews and their liberal stooges. The official cry, "STOP JONES!" has gone out among this kosher crowd, which is in a state of near-hysteria.

Milwaukee's parasite colony is going all-out to stop "that Nazi" from winning enough votes in the February 17 primary election to get on the ballot in the general election. Thus, in typical Jewish fashion, a number of illegal and quasi-legal schemes have been concocted by a slimy coalition of Jews and anti-White elements.

One of the most blatant acts of this pressure group was a lawsuit filed to remove Jones' name from the ballot, on the pretext of some inconsequential technicalities in his nomination papers. This effort was rejected by a conscientious circuit court judge who refused to bow to Jewish pressure and carried out his duty to protect free elections. Although this failure was considered a stinging defeat in Jewish circles, they tried the same type of trick again. This time candidate Jones was accused of refusing to give the names and addresses of his campaign contributors. Again this failed to remove him from the ballot.

Other attacks have included anti-Party articles, letters and editorials in the newspapers and other media, which only resulted in giving the NSWPP more publicity.

Comrade Jones' campaign is causing such controversy that the central issue of the election for mayor is the NSWPP. Two candidates have even entered the race with the sole and publicly admitted purpose of keeping Jones from winning the primary. This shows that just a few activists with determination can make the Party into a force that can dominate local politics.

The Party has received almost daily newspaper coverage in the past two weeks. Due to space limitations, only a few examples are reproduced on the next page.

Court Requested To Disqualify Jones

Atty. Stephen M. Glynn, Circuit Judge Leander J. Foley Jr. Wednesday petitioned the Circuit Court to order the City Election Commission to remove the name of Arthur Jones as a candidate for mayor.

In the petition, Glynn said he has reviewed nominating petition forms for Jones, the National Socialist White People's Party (Nazi) candidate, and claimed he found defects in nominating sheets.

Glynn said three sheets, containing a total of 60 names, did not list any candidate's name. One sheet, with 19 names, did not list the office being sought, and 24 sheets, containing a total of 442 names, did not list the party or principles of the candidate.

He maintained that if the election commissioners had performed their duties they would have deleted 521 names from the 1,956 names submitted by Jones. If they had, the petition said, Jones would not have had the required number of signatures for nomination — a minimum of 1,500.

The petition was assigned to

Foes' Efforts Called Illegal

Arthur Jones, National Socialist White People's (Nazi) Party mayoral candidate, charged Wednesday that efforts to prevent his winning the mayoral primary were illegal.

He said the Coalition of Organizations Against Nazism (COAN) and the Concerned Jewish Citizens (CJC), a member of COAN, were "raising funds, distributing literature and holding secret meetings" in what he called an illegal effort to defeat his candidacy.

Jones said that neither COAN nor CJC was registered as a political committee and that "it appears to me these two organizations have deliberately violated state, county and city laws."

Atty. Burton Polansky, COAN president, said Wednesday COAN "has not taken any formal support for any candidate" and that "all of our meetings are open and public."

Nazi 'Infection' Fear Called Motivation for Coalition

By LOUISE ALLEN

"It's like an infection — you stop it while it's small before it has a chance to spread."

"It" is the National Socialist White People's (Nazi) Party and the quote is from Burton Polansky, president of the Coalition of Organizations Against Nazism (COAN).

The coalition, which was formed last September in opposition to the emergence of Nazis here, has grown from three founding groups to 20 organizations, plus several groups that have expressed support.

Coalition officials estimate the 20 organizations represent about 25,000 area residents.

Polansky, a Milwaukee lawyer, said in an interview that the coalition estimates the number of local Nazis at 100 to 120, with 20 to 30 considered to be "storm troopers."

History, Polansky noted, has proven that ignoring Nazis when they were a small group allowed the Nazis to grow into a powerful group that brought about the holocaust of World War II.

COAN, a volunteer coalition that does not require dues, includes such diverse groups as the Milwaukee Alliance of Concerned Citizens — which itself is a coalition of about 120 groups — the Latin American Union for Civil Rights, Jewish War Veterans and the Sherman Park Community Organization.

The founding organizations were the Zionist Organization of America, Concerned Jewish Citizens and the Jewish War Veterans.

"Basically, we're trying to sensitize the community to know what Nazism really is," Polansky said.

A letter distributed to prospective coalition members states that the organization intends to eliminate Nazism by using such methods as "education, public relations, demonstrations and counterdemonstrations, litigation and legislation."

The letter also includes a copy of City Atty. James B. Brennan's so-called anti-Nazi ordinance, which the coalition endorses.

The ordinance would make it illegal to distribute material that exposes citizens of any race, color, creed or religion to contempt, derision or condemnation and that would cause a disturbance. It was introduced in the wake of Nazi activities here last summer and fall.

The coalition is concerned with the mayoral candidacy of Arthur J. Jones, 28, who is secretary and director of public relations for the local Nazis.

"They (Nazis) are developing a form of legitimacy, which we feel could be very dangerous to the community," he said.

The coalition has expressed support, but has not fully endorsed, Jan A. Olson in his bid as a candidate for mayor in the primary election. The support is part of an effort to prevent Jones from opposing Mayor Maier in the general election.

"We have no complaints against Mayor Maier," Polansky said, noting that in "the primary race we just want to prevent Jones from coming in."

The coalition holds regular monthly meetings, publishes a newsletter and has education and membership committees.

"If we reach the point where the Nazis disappear," Polansky said, "then I think there would be no reason for our group to continue."

The Race for Mayor

The Milwaukee mayor's race holds little excitement for the voters in next Tuesday's primary. Mayor Maier, the only capable and authentically qualified candidate for the office, seems certain to command an impressive primary vote over six token challengers and go on to overwhelming re-election in April. The city will be well served by that.

But there is a disturbing possibility lurking in this seemingly innocuous primary. The possibility exists that a Nazi could be the second candidate to survive the primary and run in the general election. That candidate, Arthur Jones, stands for a philosophy so repugnant and so hatefully inflammatory that his nomination would be an embarrassment to the city nationally and an invitation to turmoil locally.

How can a citizen who is concerned about that possibility effectively use Tuesday's ballot to try to prevent it? It is not enough to merely say vote against the Nazi. The danger is that voters who are anti-Maier and anti-Nazi will be badly split among the remaining five little known candidates, permitting the Nazi to squeak through. Thus, it is necessary for voters to act in concert — to select just one of these candidates on which to concentrate their votes.

Jan Olson, an articulate former teacher who is a cut above the other minor candidates, has attracted endorsements designed to keep the Nazi out of the general election. The Journal also encourages those who do not choose to vote for Henry Maier to vote instead for Olson.

MILWAUKEE SENTINEL

Judge Rules Nazi To Stay on Ballot

Arthur Jones, mayoral candidate for the National Socialist White People's (Nazi) Party, filed appropriate nomination papers and should remain on the primary election ballot, Circuit Judge Leander J. Foley Jr. ruled Friday.

Foley dismissed a request by Atty. Stephen M. Glynn to strike Jones' name from the ballot because of alleged deficiencies in his nomination papers.

Foley, who is running for election to the Wisconsin Supreme Court, said Glynn's objections were technicalities that did not necessitate removal of the candidate's name from the election.

The case had been regarded as an explosive one because of the Nazism issue involved and the fact that Foley was running for election himself.

"I must stand on the principle of law that favors free elections," Foley told a filled courtroom. "I'm compelled to do what the statutes say and what the law is. I must protect free elections."

Jones is running for mayor against five opponents, including Mayor Maier.

After Foley's decision, an observer said, "That took guts."

Several lawyers present said Foley could have gained election votes by a ruling against Jones, but gained stature by leaving him on the ballot.

'Offensive Material'

To The Sentinel:

Recently, material promoting Art Jones for mayor was distributed in our neighborhood. I find it offensive and a misuse of the right to promote a political candidate for a group such as the White People's Party to use an election to slander a minority group and support racism in the Milwaukee community.

It is a personal affront to human intelligence and dignity to make generalized statements regarding welfare (calling welfare people "shiftless minority parasites"), crime (labeling criminals as "depraved subhumans") and statemanship (implying that the government is now a "government for special minorities, sellout politicians, social experimenters and Communist subversives").

The White People's Party, like any other political party, has the right to promote a candidate. I do not object to that just right, but I do object to the means it employs.

City Voters Must Reject Nazi's Bid

The right of every American to seek public office is guaranteed, set down in documents that shape the foundation of the democratic form of government under which we live.

It is also the right, and responsibility, of each voter to know the background of the officeholder, for the social philosophy of each candidate is as important to understand as the promises he makes about taxes or government in general.

The fact is that whatever minority vote there is against Mayor Maier in the Feb. 17 primary election could be so split that Maier will be left with the opposition in the April general election.

Jones is the National Socialist White People's Party (Nazi) candidate for mayor of Milwaukee and is one of six relatively unknown candidates challenging Maier in the primary.

Do the voters of Milwaukee wish to risk the embarrassment of nominating to the highest office in the city a representative of a party connected with a philosophy that should have been buried in a bunker more than 30 years ago?

That is a question city voters should be seriously asking themselves within the next 10 days.

Some might argue that the publicity given this candidate during this pre-election period will only call attention to his candidacy and increase his chances of gaining the nomination.

But experience has proved that problems did not disappear by simply ignoring them. It is a fact that there is a Nazi candidate for mayor and the situation must be approached realistically.

The system has given the National Socialist White People's Party the opportunity to field a candidate for mayor.

But the system also guarantees that, voting with understanding, voters can reject candidates who choose to associate themselves with alien philosophies. That is how Jones' candidacy should be treated.

St. Louis Activist Opposes Integration Plan; Begins Election Campaign

On 6 February St. Louis Unit Secretary Michael Allen attended a public hearing on the proposed desegregation plan for that city's schools, and obtained permission to speak to the audience. Comrade Allen reports:

"When my name was called to speak, I stood up and paused. Then I took off my jacket revealing my ST uniform.

"It seemed like 300 people reacted as one person. There was a clear gasp of shock, then a deadly silence as I walked the length of the auditorium. Just as I reached the microphone, all hell broke loose.

"A Marxist jumped up and screamed at the top of his lungs, 'He's a fascist! Throw the bastard out!' His call to arms was picked up by supporters of the NAACP and the SWP, who screamed 'Don't let him speak! Throw him out!' With the Reds jumping up and down and screaming threats, it looked like a full scale riot would break out.

"The Superintendent of Schools took the microphone and said, 'Let him speak. Everyone here has a right to talk.'"

When the crowd had calmed down somewhat, Comrade Allen began his speech with the question, "Should St. Louis, in fact, desegregate it's schools?" His question drew boos and catcalls from the leftist elements in the crowd. He continued by pointing out that:

"Desegregation in other schools has failed to provide a quality education. The only thing that desegregation has ever accomplished was to increase racial friction. No child can be expected to learn anything in an atmosphere where they fear for their safety. The record of desegregated schools is a failure and a flop."

Despite the continuous heckling of the Reds and Blacks, Comrade Allen concluded his speech without any serious incidents.

The city's Jew-owned newspapers played down the National Socialist's presence at the hearing. The Globe-Democrat ignored ST Allen's opposition to busing completely. The St. Louis Post Dispatch admitted his presence, but failed to mention the fact that a riot nearly broke out.

On 7 February, Michael Allen, candidate No. 1 on the April 6 ballot, officially began the active phase of his campaign for the Breckenridge Hills Board of Trustees.

The day's activity began with candidate Allen talking with some Breckenridge Hills businessmen about his campaign. He made it clear to them that he was opposed to the recent hike in merchant license fees, which are threatening to force small, White-owned businesses out of the community.

At noon Comrade Allen and several Unit members stationed themselves in front of the city hall. One National Socialist held a sign (see photo) while others distributed campaign leaflets. Allen, in uniform, talked with

A Nazi Party candidate for the Breckenridge Hills Board of Trustees has opened his campaign in front of the Village Hall.

Michael Allen, secretary of the St. Louis branch of the National Socialist White Peoples' Party, accompanied by several campaign volunteers, appeared at the Village Hall to begin what he claims will be a two-month "street corner campaign." Allen said he will campaign every Saturday until the April election.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

Delays Decision On Nazi Rally

The Breckenridge Hills Board of Trustees delayed a decision last night on a request by a Nazi Party candidate to hold a "white power campaign rally" in a village park in April.

Holston E. Black, village clerk, told the candidate, Michael Allen, at a board meeting that the board would not act until its attorney had prepared an opinion on the request.

Allen is a candidate in the election April 6 for village trustee. He is secretary of the St. Louis chapter of the National Socialist White People's Party. He has asked for permission to hold a campaign rally April 3 in a park behind the Village Hall.

funds are being sought for a similar school for children in grades five through eight.

One speaker at the hearing questioned whether St. Louis school officials should attempt to desegregate the schools at all. His question was met with loud boos.

"The will of the people has been ignored on this vital question," said Michael Allen, local secretary for the National Socialist White Peoples' Party. "The people didn't have a choice. The record of desegregated schools is a failure and a flop."

interested people about issues confronting their community.

Following the street corner activity, candidate Allen and his campaign workers went door-to-door distributing leaflets and talking with village residents.

The Unit plans on holding a White Power rally in April right before the election, depending on the local government's decision on their request for permission.

Get Those Congress Reservations IN!

Plans for the Seventh Party Congress during the Fourth of July weekend are proceeding apace at National Headquarters. Arrangements are being made to reserve accommodations for Congress attendees. Headquarters needs to know how many comrades will be requiring rooms during the Congress to insure that enough are reserved. Comrades who are planning to attend should send their reservations in as soon as possible as hotels and motels are being quickly booked up in advance due to the enormous influx of Bicentennial tourists.

A deposit of $20 is required for every room reserved. Those comrades who are planning to attend but can't afford the deposit right now should still let NHQ know if they will be needing a room. (When reserving a room, please specify whether double or single, and which nights' occupancy is desired.)

This Congress promises to be one of the most exciting to date, and will allow a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to see America's Bicentennial celebration. No comrade will want to miss this historic event!

Chicago ST on the March!

Braving winter storms and generally bad weather, the Chicago Unit ST took to the streets to get the Party's message to the White people of the Chicago area during the past month.

Led by GL John Logan, the ST conducted a program of regular WHITE POWER newspaper distributions in White suburbs. WHITE POWER newspapers and leaflets were distributed door to door every week in the month on January.

This activity was topped off by a march on 24 January, in southwest Chicago. The ST column, in full uniform, carried signs reading "White Power." The route of the march was along a major thoroughfare and was crowded with people doing their shopping. At the sight of the uniformed ST, people poured out of stores to wish them well and cheer the column on.

The march concluded without incident as the men embarked on the Chicago Unit's White Power bus and cruised through southside Chicago chanting "White Power" and singing the Party Battle Song.

Progress Report on Poster Experiment

Initial sales response to the poster art offering titled "National Socialism - the Organized Will of the Race" has been only fair. Many comrades have not responded at all to the recent appeal concerning them.

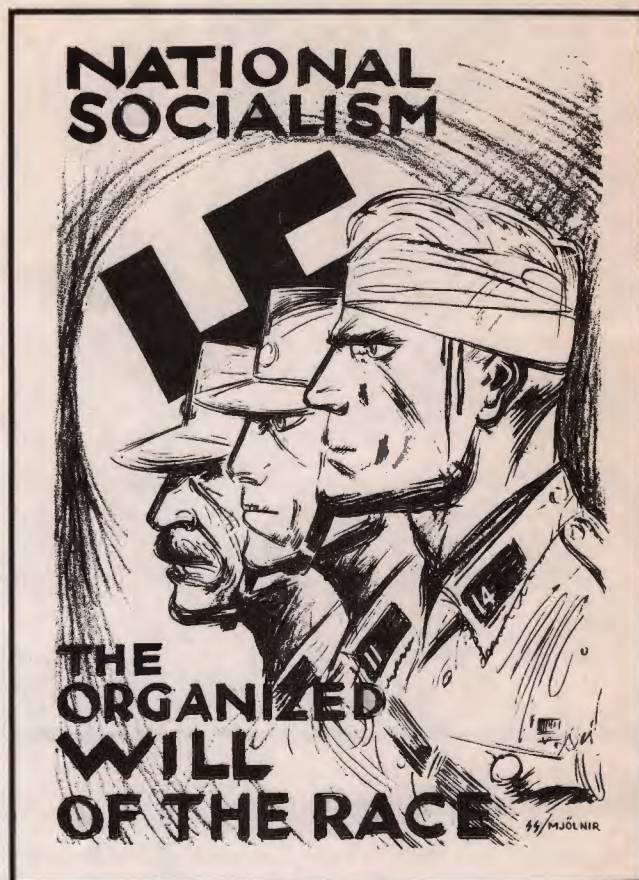

The importance of these posters cannot be overstressed. They are not merely another item for sale but have a definite, vital purpose to them. As has been mentioned, they are part of an experiment to find new sources of funds for the Movement and find new forms of propaganda to reach the masses. Whether or not this experiment works will depend on whether or not you and your comrades purchase these posters.

Depending on the success of the prototype poster now being offered, Party artist "SS" will produce for us at regular intervals similarly exciting NS posters, which will also be offered at $5 each. Although this price is slightly higher than what would normally be charged for such items, the small extra charge will enable your Party to raise over $4,000 for every 1000 posters ordered. And if we can issue these posters 3 or 4 times a year, the resulting income will have a very profound effect on the Party's abilities to wage effective election campaigns and hire professional staff personnel.

Some comrades have undoubtedly purchased these posters for their decorational value alone. But their propaganda value should not be overlooked also. When placed in a conspicuous public place these posters have tremendous visual impact, in terms of recruiting Whites to our Cause as well as shocking our racial enemies. One imaginative comrade wrote to tell us how he pasted a poster to the back of a city transit bus early one morning. It remained there for the majority of the day as the bus drove through town, where it was seen by thousands of people. National Socialists with similar ingenuity should be able to find equally effective places to place them. Store windows, display cases in schools or libraries or simply the walls of buildings might be good spots to place these posters.

"The Organized Will of the Race" posters are of exceptional quality, measuring a large 24"x 18" and printed on heavy textured stock. If you would like to see more of these great works of art as well as to help the Movement achieve victory, order a poster today!

(Note: Headquarters has just received word that tentative work on the next issue of poster art has begun. If the experiment goes as planned, they will be available in a few months.)

Reproduction of poster available from NS Publications for $5. Actual size 24"x18"
