Nazi Pickets Protest Aliens

Thirteen National Socialist White Persons Party members picketed in brown uniforms for more than two hours yesterday at the U.S.-Mexico border in San Ysidro to protest the entry of illegal aliens into this country.

The group — with its red white and black flag, a U.S. flag, and a "Stop Illegal Aliens" banner — handed out handbills at the former San Diego Police Department checkpoint for persons going into Mexico. Police spokesman Bill Robinson said police and Border Patrol and Customs agents observed the group to see no laws were violated.

"The group, from San Diego and Los Angeles, was headed by Tom Knight of San Diego and was orderly," he said.

Bomb rips sidewalk by Nazi store

By Joseph Sjostrom
and Sharon Keller

A HOMEMADE BOMB tore a three-foot hole in the sidewalk next to a bookstore operated by the National Socialist White People's Party in Cicero Monday.

Police said the bomb, which did little damage to the bookstore at 2442 S. Central Av., scattered mud and pieces of concrete for 100 feet and shattered eight windows in a three-flat brick apartment building immediately north of the store. There were no injuries.

PARTY CAPTAIN Cedrick Syrdahl of Cicero said his group, formerly called the American Nazi Party, which promotes "white power," had received no threats and had had no trouble at that location, where they moved about a year ago.

Syrdahl said all the party's activities—speeches and marches—are held outside of Cicero.

"We're not here to hassle this administration," he said.

The only outside identification of the bookstore is two-inch letters reading N.S. Publishing Co. Inside the building are photos of Adolf Hitler, publications stamped with Nazi swastikas, and various antiblack, anti-Jewish, and anti-Communist tracts.

SYRDAHL SAID he's more upset that the apartment building next door was damaged and "innocent lives were endangered," than that his party's operation was bombed.

For the White People's Party, he said, "attack is the name of the game." Promoting the white power ideology, "we put our warm bodies on the line every time."

Bomb Attack Causes Minor Damage to Chicago Building

Early in the morning of 31 May, an explosive device was detonated against the Party center in Chicago. (See newspaper account at left.) The blast did only minor damage to the building, which has since been repaired with no curtailment of operations.

The cowardly attack has not only prompted tightened security measures, but has resulted in new sympathy for the Party in the local community.

The Chicago Unit has been maintaining a steady schedule of activity in the past month. Local comrades have been meeting every week at the new Party center to do Party work and go on literature distributions, and every weekend the NS Bookstore is manned by uniformed ST and open to the general public.

Whites of Chicago have been favorably impressed by the uniformed WHITE POWER newspaper sales the Unit has been conducting regularly, like the one pictured above. The Party's White Power van has been a useful part in activities such as these.

Two Court Victories Scored in Los Angeles

As a result of two court victories scored in Los Angeles recently, two members of the local unit are no longer facing legal harassment.

On 27 May, ST Gregg Hummer was found innocent of a charge of battery pressed against him by a Mexican Communist, which arose from an incident at picket of the Socialist Workers' Party bookstore in March (See NS Bulletin No. 203 for details.) Because Comrade Hummer did not qualify for a public defender, and was unable to afford an attorney, he was forced to represent himself in court. Even though he had no prior legal experience, he skillfully defended himself against a veteran assistant district attorney and the lying SWP Marxists. In cross-examination, ST Hummer brought out many contradictions in the phony story of the Red, who maintained that the National Socialist attacked him. Because of the evidence presented, the judge found ST Hummer innocent of the charges, much to the chagrin of the Communists.

On 7 June, the charge of "brandishing a weapon not in defense of persons or property" against Party Security Officer Clyde Bingham was dismissed following a motion entered by his attorney. (See NS Bulletin No. 203 for details.) This court decision marks an end to the legal harassment Comrade Bingham has faced since 15 August 1975, when an attack on the local Party headquarters was stopped by deadly force.

Comrade Bingham wishes to thank everyone who made contributions or loans to his bail fund, which enabled his release from jail last October. All comrades who made loans for this purpose should be receiving their money back shortly. If you made a loan, but do not receive your money within two weeks, please notify National Headquarters immediately.

During the month of May, the Party raised $660.84 towards the Three-year Plan, which is only $46.20 more than we raised in April. Comrades from 21 states and provinces gave to this drive in May, which is only two more than the previous month. Even though this represents slight progress over April, we are still nowhere near meeting our monthly goals of $2,500 in contributions and filling out the map.

If your Party is to meet its $88,888 goal by April 20, 1978 (which is less than 22 months away), a maximum effort on the part of every comrade in every state will be necessary.

To date, we have raised a total of $14,590.04. The initials and amount of contribution of each comrade who gave to the Plan during May is listed below.

He finds lot to like about Nazi group

Editor:

I am writing the first letter to the editor in my life. The reason for doing so is because I feel very strongly about the following situation.

I read a letter in your paper by a man who opposed the group called the National Socialist White People's Party. I am not a member of this group, but several months ago I received a copy of their newspaper at my front door.

I read their paper and found much truth in it. Not every thing I agree with, but many good points and questions were brought up. Afterwards, I subscribed; and every copy is interesting to say the least.

I believe that they have the same right to say what they wish as the man who wrote the previous letter or myself for that matter. I hope that here in Livonia as well as America we can have freedom for everyone to say what they wish without fear or punishment. Thank you.

PS-Please don't print my name, just my initials, because I don't want my family harassed by any weirdos. Thank you.

Release Hess?

Rudolf Hess marks the 36th year of his imprisonment May 12. Most of it was in solitary confinement.

Hess, in a personal act of courage, flew alone to Britain in a bid for peace during World War II. The Nuernberg court exonerated him of any war crime in October, 1946. But he was sentenced to life for abetting a war of aggression.

In civilized countries a life sentence ranges from 15-25 years. In this country he would be free.

Today the Western peoples look favorably upon the release of Hess, now 82. Only the Soviet Union and its allies oppose it. Many other German wartime leaders have been released on humanitarian grounds. I think it is time to free Rudolf Hess.

Nazis denied parade permission

Does the Livonia Nazi chapter have a right to march in the community's Memorial Day parade, held to honor the country's war dead?

The Nazi chapter leadership says yes.

The parade planning committee made up of representatives of the city's four veterans' groups disagrees and has refused the chapter permission to march in the parade.

The Nazis, whose formal name is the National Socialist White Peoples Party, have taken their case to the Detroit office of the American Civil Liberties Union which is supporting the chapter's move to get into the parade.

Even if the move is unsuccessful, the chapter will still take part—even if it means marching with its American flag on the sidewalks along the parade route.

ERIC STEELE, chapter leader, told the Observer & Eccentric that his group "isn't promising any trouble" and "doesn't want to offend anyone—we just want to do our own thing."

One thing they plan on is to place a memorial floral wreath at the Veterans Park on the northeast corner of Farmington Road and Five Mile.

Steele said the refusal of the Allied Veterans Committee, parade sponsors, to let him march in the holiday event is "an insult to me as a veteran and a citizen."

Steele said he is a U.S. Army veteran with a honorable discharge.

The chairman and a companion, whom he identified only as Joe, attended last Wednesday's city council business meeting in uniform, which includes an arm band with a black swastika.

NORMAN HASKINS, veterans' committee chairman, told the Nazi chapter that the committee voted last Monday, May 10, to "refuse accepting your participation (in the parade) in the best interest of the Livonia American veterans."

He added that the judgment of the committee "is based on programming our parade-march and activities on the basis of symbolic expressions or actions of individuals, groups or organizations, military or civil, that acknowledge the American Constitution and the laws 'that govern the country.'"

Haskins said he sent copies of the rejection letter to the mayor, city councilmen, police department and other Livonia veterans groups.

The parade entry forms, distributed last December, included a prohibition of parade entries that are commercial or political in nature.

STEELE SAID that his group "doesn't want any harassment or confrontation" during the parade.

"We want to honor all soldiers around the world who fought communism," he added. "It's an insult to our intelligence to say that we don't obey the laws," referring to Haskins' comment about persons and groups who acknowledge the federal Constitution and laws.

Steele said the chapter planned to have from 10-20 persons march in the parade in their uniforms.

He said the city is involved in the parade through several of its administrators who are working with the parade committee.

Steele disagreed with city officials who said the parade is primarily a matter of a private group, the parade committee, and not a city government project.

THE GROUP has been holding numerous Saturday afternoon demonstrations in public places in the past six months.

Those include an anti-busing demonstration, an anti-Livonia School District millage proposal, and an appeal May 1 at Veterans Park to have former Nazi leader Rudolph Hess freed from the jail in West Germany he has been in for 35 years.

Livonia Observer & Eccentric

Thursday, June 3, 1976

There was something for everyone at Livonia's 24th annual Memorial Day parade Sunday afternoon.

There were Hawaiian hula dancing girls, a dozen marching bands, colorful bicentennial-theme floats, pretty majorettes—and sunny skies.

It was the largest Livonia parade—with 169 units—and it took nearly two hours to complete the 1½-mile route from Riley Junior High at Five Mile and Henry Ruff to the Civic Center at Farmington Road and Five Mile.

A promised military jet flyover had to be canceled because cloudy skies and low visibility, but a Coast Guard helicopter did fly over the crowd of thousands which lined the parade route.

There were marching bands from Bentley, Churchill, Franklin and Stevenson high schools in addition to out-of-town schools. One was Garden City East, which provided music and a special formation drill before the reviewing stand.

THERE WERE colorful floats and marching units from dozens of civic and service groups, scout organizations and military units from Livonia and neighboring communities.

During the holiday ceremony after the parade, Gen. Rudolph Bartholomew, commander of the 127th tactical fighter wing of the Selfridge Air National Guard, delivered the Memorial Day address. Herbert Boldt, master of ceremonies, presented trophies to groups and individuals which won awards for parade entries and for special honors.

The veterans committee held a wreath-laying ceremony before the parade at Veterans Park, Farmington and Five Mile, with city officials and local veterans and military groups taking part.

The Livonia chapter of the National Socialists White Peoples Party, denied permission last month to march in the parade, were also prevented by Livonia police from taking part in the wreath-laying ceremony.

Members of the chapter, dressed in brown shirts and caps and carrying American and Nazi flags with a swastika, were told by policemen that they didn't have a parade permit.

The chapter B which had from eight to 10 members in double column at Farmington Road and Five Mile, wanted to place a floral wreath decorated with a swastika at Veterans Park.

Houston-area National Socialists Conduct Public Demonstrations

On 24 May 1976, uniformed ST men attended the board meeting of the Houston Independent School District, which is discussing plans for forced integration. One of the NS activists intended to speak to the audience, but citizen discussion was suddenly cancelled by the board for that particular meeting. Even so, the presence of the ST men made a big impression on everyone there.

A few weeks later, activists from Houston and Galveston, TX, picketed the Trotskyite Socialist Worker's Party in Houston. One local comrade reports:

"On the evening of 12 June, uniformed ST from the Hous-

Stormtroopers attending school board meeting in Houston ton-Galveston area picketed the Texas state convention of the Marxist Socialist Workers Party. Speaking at the convention was their presidential candidate Peter Camejo. The meeting was organized by the Jew, Dan Fein, the SWP's local leader. Our picket was held across the street from the convention. Their meeting was almost completely disrupted, because half of the Marxists stood around to watch our picket instead of listening to Camejo. Several passing Whites expressed support for us because we opposed the Reds. Except for the usual catcalls from the communist scum, there were no incidents.

"The Marxists gave our picket advance publicity by reporting falsely that we were threatening to attack their meeting, and by Camejo demanding Secret Service protection as a presidential candidate. This was reported on local radio news for two days — every hour prior to our picket. In addition, our efforts were reported in the 13 June edition of the Houston Post and on local television news."

St. Louis Scene of Intense Activity

During the weeks following the recent Party election campaign in St. Louis, an intense program of street activity has been undertaken by the local unit. To bring more people into the Movement and to put the Party in the public view, the St. Louis activists have concentrated their efforts in two main areas.

One area in which their effort has focused is St. Louis' racially troubled schools. Party activists started a recruiting drive by distributing specially designed leaflets and other Party materials to high school students. Whatever campus the National Socialists have stationed themselves at, White students took the literature by the handfuls and distributed it inside their schools. Due to this enthusiastic interest, Party activists have begun urging the White students to organize to defend themselves against Black terrorism, and have been educating them in the Party's views and beliefs.

This raising of White racial consciousness has understandably upset the Black savages in control of St. Louis schools, who have caused so much noise it has reached to the school board and other agencies.

Due to complaints from Black school officials to the city's police department,

Nazis Recruiting At High School Arrested

A Nazi recruiting campaign at Southwest High School received a setback yesterday with the arrest of two party members near the school, at Kingshighway and Arsenal Street.

Arrested were Michael Allen, secretary of the Breckenridge Hills-based National Socialist White People's Party, and Charles Edwin Yow.

They were charged with trespassing

(for distributing leaflets within 300 feet of a public school) and disturbing the peace. Their literature was antiblack.

On April 19, three members in party garb entered the school building and attempted to deliver a letter to the principal. Black students started gathering in the hall. A security guard accepted the letter and escorted the men out of the building.

On April 21 uniformed Nazis again appeared at the school. About 50 Black students congregated in front of the school and taunted them.

Allen said, "We have recruited seven white students at Southwest who have volunteered to work within the school — the classrooms — to promote the National Socialist philosophy."

two ST men were arrested at the conclusion of one of the literature distributions. Despite the fact they were on a public sidewalk the whole time, they were nonetheless charged with trespassing. They were released without bail, and told to appear in court at a later date. This was no setback at all to the recruiting campaign, as the reprinted newspaper article concerning the incident reported.

The other campaign which the unit is engaged in is its drive to OUTLAW MARXISM in St. Louis. Toward this end Party activists have conducted a series of anti-Communist demonstrations. These have included pickets of the St. Louis city hall, a counter-picket of a Red 'May Day' demonstration and anti-Marxist literature distributions. In addition, St. Louis Organizer Michael Allen presented a proposal for an anti-Communist law to the mayor of the city.

Uniformed ST have also confronted the Reds physically on the streets. On one occasion, two ST men returning from a picket saw three members of the Marxist U.S. Labor Party operating a street-corner literature table. The National Socialists approached them and began marching around the table chanting "We want dead Reds!". The Communist scum replied with their usual verbal filth. But when one stupid Red insulted Commander Koehl, the ST men reacted immediately by demolishing the table, ripping up the literature and throwing the residue into the street. They then 'persuaded' the Marxists to retract their insults.

Other recent activities included a picket of a Jew-owned smut shop, and a speaking engagement at which Comrade Allen gave a presentation on the Party to a group of 40 Boy Scouts.

New Books From NS Publications

1. The Camp of the Saints by Jean Raspail. Described by the publishers as "A chilling novel about the end of the White world." This fictional story takes place in the not-too-distant future, when the White nations of the world are confronted by teeming hordes of non-Whites that threaten the destruction of Western civilization. Attention is centered on one million Asian mongrels who seize one hundred dilapidated ships and set sail for the coast of France. Suspense builds as the "Ganges Armada" nears that country, which is plagued by liberalism and hesitates from taking action.

The press has attacked The Camp of the Saints for its racist stand and its condemnation of liberalism, but has grudgingly praised it for its awesome descriptions and compelling style. This book is highly recommended for all National Socialists. Price is $9.

2. Uniforms, Organization and History of the Waffen-SS, Volume 4, by Roger Bender and Hugh Taylor. This is the latest volume in a series of authoritative works on the elite pan-Aryan army of National Socialist Europe. Covers the Galician and Latvian divisions and the Reichsfuhrer and Horst Wessel Divisions. Price is $12.

Harold Loyd Sigafoos

National Headquarters was extremely sorry to hear of the death on 1 June of Party Supporter Harold Loyd Sigafoos of Jacksonville, FL, who had faithfully served the Movement since September 1967. His untimely death at age 37 occurred under circumstances which leave unanswered questions which the Party is currently investigating. Comrade Sigafoos will continue to march in our ranks as National Socialists carry on the fight for the Cause to which he had pledged himself.
