"... [T]his planet once moved through outer space for millions of years without human beings and it can do so again some day if men forget that they owe their existence, not to the ideas of a few crazy ideologists, but to the knowledge and ruthless application of Nature's stern and rigid laws."

National Socialists Protest 'Nuclear Madness'

National Socialists from the National Headquarters area held a demonstration in front of the White House on 7 August to protest both the nuclear arms build-up and the use of nuclear fuel as a source of energy. A 15-foot-long streamer was displayed by the National Socialists, demanding "Stop Nuclear Madness."

Whether in the form of weapons or power plants, nuclear energy is exceptionally dangerous. The chance of exposure to massive doses of radiation, from either atomic warheads or leaky reactors, poses an unacceptable hazard to the Aryan race. Not only would the health of those Aryans alive today be jeopardized by a nuclear war or peacetime catastrophe, but severe genetic damage would also occur that would be passed down to future generations of our Race. The likelihood of genetic mutation—both obvious and subtle—threatens the very biological foundations of our Race's existence, apart from the immediate loss of life, the widespread suffering and the horrendous devastation that a nuclear war or accident could cause.

The reaction by those who observed the NS demonstration was generally favorable, although violence nearly broke out twice. In one instance, a Jew, enraged by the sight of the Swastika, attempted to tear down the anti-nuclear streamer. A member of the NS security force quickly sent the attacker sprawling to the sidewalk, after which his family and friends hustled him away before his suicidal inclinations could get him into further trouble. In another incident, an individual who was harassing the National Socialists with an expensive-looking camera found said camera dashed open on the pavement, with its lense shattered and its film exposed. There were no injuries and no arrests in either incident.

The NS demonstration was held to coincide with the anniversaries of the atomic attacks on the undefended Japanese cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki in the closing days of World War II. Between 150,000 and 300,000 civilians perished in these two bombings—Allied war crimes for which no one has ever been brought to trial.

Indianapolis Comrades Demonstrate Against Use of U.S. Marines in Lebanon

Members of the Indianapolis Unit demonstrated against the Reagan regime's decision to risk the lives of American fighting men to help the Jews out of the mess they got themselves into in Lebanon. Unit members protested the decision to send in the Marines at a demonstration held at the front gate of Fort Harrison (near Indianapolis) on 28 August. Some 50 copies of WHITE POWER were distributed to armed forces personnel and civilians before the military authorities ordered the National Socialists to leave the area.

The Indianapolis Unit reports distributing an additional 200 copies of WHITE POWER during the month of August, along with many leaflets and stickers. Racial Comrades of the Left! leaflets were also distributed at the Indianapolis campus of the University of Indiana, according to Unit Organizer Richard Sharp.

When American Workers Get to Choose Between Marxism and National Socialism, Guess Who Wins!

An important but sometimes overlooked aspect of the National Socialist revolution is the struggle to spread the good word of our Movement among those we work with. The following is an account of a lunch-hour debate between Comrade J.F. and a Marxist co-worker. Comrade J.F. is a journeyman with a union contractor. This conversation took place in the presence of a number of White and Black workers.

One of the men who is currently employed at the construction site where I'm now working has a big five-pointed star on the front of his hardhat. I suspected that he was some sort of communist, and one day he proved it to me.

A bunch of us, including this guy, were sitting around eating lunch. This suspected-commie began to criticize Reagan and his economic programs. He spoke out against the high unemployment rate and the bad effect it was having on the working class. I listened quietly and agreed with many of the points he was making. He was saying things like "Working class people built this country and now they are getting a raw deal," and "We workers shouldn't tolerate this economic injustice. We should take up arms against this sort of treatment."

Gradually, however, he began to aim his remarks specifically at the Black workers. He began moaning about the poor treatment Blacks are getting from the government and about how the Black man should be raised to the level of power and respect he deserves. These are very strange sentiments to be coming from the mouth of a White working man.

Next he began praising socialism in a vague way that I could not disagree with. But when he started speaking about "Karl Marx, the great father of socialism," he went too far and I launched a verbal counterattack.

ME: Why don't you just tell these men what you're talking about? You don't just want socialism and economic justice for the working man, you want all-out communism!

COMMIE: I'm speaking about the only way of life that can give the workers an even deal against the capitalist system.

ME: It's true that we need a basic socialism, but what we do not need is communism. You claim you want equal rights for all, but in putting this into effect you would take away everything these men have worked for. You would eliminate competition, incentive and individual initiative. You are a Red pig totally infected with Marxism!

COMMIE: Karl Marx was a good man, and he had the only plan that would allow all working men and women to survive.

ME: Look at these men. These men are survivors! They are making the best of a bad situation and doing quite well at it. They don't need some communist Jew like Karl Marx to tell them how to live. You say that you think multiracialism and race-mixing are good things. Well, in effect, what you are talking about is the death of the Black race!

COMMIE: No!

ME: Yes!

COMMIE: No, it would mean the growth of the Black race!

ME: If all the races mix together there will be no more Black race. There will be no more White race. If the races are forced to live together in the unnatural situation that we have today, there will be more and more mixing. So you claim to be for the Black man, but what you are really advocating is the slow genocide of the Black race. Every race needs to have its own land and its own culture. Communism destroys all of that.

COMMIE: You're nothing but a Nazi!

ME: Call me whatever you want, but at least have the courage to admit to these men that you are a communist!

COMMIE: I'm a fighter -- a fighter for all the people! All the people, not just the White race like you!

ME: In short, you have no sense of loyalty to your own race, right? If you have no sense of loyalty to your own people, how can you expect any of these men to have respect for you? And not only that, you are a coward because you are afraid to admit that you are a communist. You would take away from these men everything they've worked for, destroy the race they belong to and impose a communist dictatorship over them. That's not the kind of world that I want, and it's not the kind of world that these men want, either!

At that the communist got up and walked off the job. He didn't return for the rest of the day. Since then, he has avoided a political confrontation with me in the presence of other workers.

This, of course, is just a rough approximation of our informal debate. It actually lasted about 15 minutes and was somewhat more involved than what I've related here.

Afterwards, I answered questions put to me by the workers -- Black and White alike -- who had listened to the conversation that I had with the Red.

These workers had remained silent throughout the debate. The Blacks, in particular, were sympathetic to the remarks the commie was making until I pointed out that multiracialism would lead to the destruction of their race. This is something that they hadn't considered before, and the thought of it bothered them greatly.

The White workers became opposed to him as soon as they realized that he was a communist. White workers don't like communism, period. The fact that this guy was too cowardly to openly admit that he was a communist, when it was obvious to everyone anyway, hurt his credibility even further.

These workers are certainly not pro-National Socialist by any means, but this and subsequent discussions have definitely made them more sympathetic than they previously were. Converting people who have been brainwashed against us is a slow process, which requires persistence, courage and intelligence.

NOTICE!

Effective 9 September 1982, the Official Supporter status of Ronald R. Reddish, of Cleveland, Ohio, is terminated, because of this individual's involvement in criminal activities.

This Movement stands for a total spiritual and political revolution against the anti-Aryan, race-destroying Old Order. We have nothing but hatred and contempt for the System which rules the United States and the rest of the Western world. It is our goal to overthrow this System and replace it with an National Socialist new order, which will safeguard the welfare and advance the special interests of our people.

Unfortunately, every now and then individuals become associated with the NS movement who mistake our rebellion against the System for a license to break the laws of the land for their own personal benefit.

The fact that we are in total opposition to the way things are today does not mean that we approve of any form of anti-social criminal activity. To the contrary. National Socialism stands for everything that is good, wholesome and life-affirming. We unconditionally condemn any form of behavior which harms the greater racial community or which brings the National Socialist movement into disrepute, whether or not such activity is committed with pseudo-ideological justification.

The NSWPP Official Supporter card states that "This card is invalid . . . if the bearer engages in criminal activity." It is our policy to enforce this clause. And when our Movement comes to power, it will ruthlessly exterminate the criminal element which preys on the decent, productive segment of our Race. Those White criminals who wage war on their racial brothers and sisters should expect no mercy from this Party.

Notes from NS Publications

1. A box full of issues of the old WUNS BULLETIN was recently discovered in a National Headquarters store-room. The WUNS BULLETIN was a periodical issued by the World Union of National Socialists from 1965 through 1973, which reported on NS activities throughout the world. NS Publications is offering a selection of issues of this now-discontinued publication to the readers of the NS BULLETIN.

There are 13 issues of the WUNS BULLETIN in this portfolio, beginning with issue number number two (1965) and ending with the final issue, number 23 (1973). They range in size and format from a one-page mimeographed newsletter to a 12-page magazine, complete with photographs, illustrations and a two-color cover.

These WUNS BULLETINs make fascinating reading for those comrades interested in postwar Movement history. Sold only as a set. Order from Arlington. Price: $15 (including postage).

2. NS Publications as has available complete sets of the NS BULLETIN for the year 1981. A worthwhile purchase for comrades missing copies of the bulletin from their files, or for those comrades who are new to the Movement and who are curious about its recent past. Nine issues, sold only as a set. Order from Arlington. Price: $6 (including postage).

3. Marx, Race and the Third World, a book review which first appeared in issue number two of THE NATIONAL SOCIALIST, is now available in leaflet form. Although National Headquarters has reprinted this item primarily for use in promoting subscriptions to THE NATIONAL SOCIALIST, it may also be distributed by local units and individual activists as well.

This leaflet is suggested for distribution to those White people who have a generally Marxist political orientation. It is also suitable for distribution to Third World peoples, whom the Reds are trying to hard to recruit. It may be used in conjunction with the leaflet Racial Comrades of the Left!, which is likewise designed to appeal to a Marxist audience. Order from Arlington. Price: 50 for $2.
