ABOUT THE SPEAKER

John Tyndall's name is inseparably linked with the National Front. Born in 1934, he has been politically active for nearly all of his adult life. He was leader of the NF during its most successful years of growth, in 1972-74 and 1976-78. Elected to continue leading the party in September 1979, he resigned four months later following differences with its National Directorate. In June 1980 he founded with others the New National Front, a movement created to reform the old NF and mould it into a tightly-knit, highly disciplined organisation free of the internal weaknesses of the old party, though faithful to the same political ideals and objectives.

John Tyndall has over the years been the National Front's leading public speaker and its leading formulator of policy. He was the principal author of its Election Manifesto for May 1979 and numerous other party publications. He is also the founder and publisher of the hard-hitting patriotic monthly, Spearhead.

A music-lover and physical fitness enthusiast, John Tyndall lives with his wife and young daughter in Hove, Sussex.
